1-907. ADMINISTRATIVE JUDGE – ADMINISTRATIVE POWERS AND DUTIES.

The administrative judge or acting administrative judge in each judicial district, subject to the rules of the Supreme Court, shall have administrative supervision and authority over the operation of the district courts and magistrates in the district. These powers and duties include, but are not limited to, the following:

- (a) arranging schedules and assigning district judges for sessions of district courts;
- (b) arranging or supervising the calendaring of matters for trial or hearing;
- (c) supervising the clerks of the district courts in the discharge of the clerical functions of the district courts;
- (d) assigning matters to magistrates, and prescribing times and places at which magistrates shall be available for the performance of their duties;

1-907 continued...

- (e) making arrangements with proper authorities for the drawing of civil jury panels and determining which sessions of the district court shall be jury sessions;
- (f) arranging for the reporting of civil cases by court reporters or other authorized means;
- (g) arranging sessions, to the extent practicable, for the trial of specialized cases, including traffic, domestic relations, and other types of cases, and assigning district judges to preside over these sessions so as to permit maximum practicable specialization by individual judges;
- (h) promulgating a schedule of offenses for which magistrates and clerks of court or other designated persons may accept written appearances, waivers of trial, and pleas of guilty, and establishing a schedule of fines and bails therefor;
- (i) assigning magistrates to temporary duty outside the county of their residence, but within the district;
- (j) acting as chairman of the district magistrates commission of the district;
- (k) assigning to other district judges in the district various powers and duties as in this act provided; and
- (l) appointing personnel when needed to attend to the courts, and assigning duties to these court attendants for the purpose of maintaining the security and efficiency of court facilities.

Transitioning to iCourt

- Twin Falls County is proud to have served as the pilot court for adoption of the Odyssey system, including the recent addition of e-filing. These solutions are providing the courts, attorneys and the public with better access and more streamlined approaches to the court system – from virtually anywhere. Odyssey is an excellent program, designed with today's electronic world in mind. Once fully integrated it will be a great benefit to the entire state.

Transitioning to e-Filing

"To be able to immediately communicate with the courts and our clients is huge. You are eliminating a three to five day process. It is going to streamline so many things for us."

~ May, Browning & May

"We've worked closely with the courts to improve the system for attorneys all over the state."

~ Worst, Fitzgerald & Stover

"E-Filing has given the judges in Twin Falls County the ability to handle most of our work in a better way - faster with easier attention to detail. We are very happy with it."

~ Judge Richard Bevan
