FIRST EXTRAORDINARY SESSION
SIXTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE

FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 2022

At the hour of 8 a.m. on Thursday, September 1, 2022, being the day and hour fixed by proclamation of the Governor of the State of Idaho for the convening of the First Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-sixth Idaho Legislature, the members of the Senate convened in the Senate Chamber of the Capitol in the City of Boise, with President Janice McGeachin presiding. STATE OF IDAHO
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

CERTIFICATION

I LAWRENCE DENNEY, Secretary of State of the State of Idaho and legal custodian of the Seal of said State and all Proclamations of the Governor of the State of Idaho pursuant to 67-903, Idaho Code, do hereby certify that the annexed is a full, true and complete copy of the Proclamation of the Governor of the State of Idaho concerning the convening of the Sixty-Sixth Idaho Legislature in an Extraordinary Session, received and filed in this office on the Thirty-First day of August, 2022, and that the same appears of record in this office.

STATE OF IDAHO
THE OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
BOISE

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Article 4, Section 9 of the Constitution of the State of Idaho empowers the Governor, on extraordinary occasions, to convene the Legislature by proclamation; and

WHEREAS, inflation is at a 40-year high, putting gas, groceries, and other necessities out of reach for many Idahoans. Idaho taxpayers and the education system are especially imperiled by the consequences of historic inflation; and

WHEREAS, the State of Idaho's responsible, prudent budgeting has resulted in a record-breaking fiscal surplus, which equips the state to take action now to mitigate the harmful impacts of inflation; and

WHEREAS, by acting now, the state can return a portion of the surplus to Idaho taxpayers and make needed investments in education to counter rising costs and the likely increase in post-secondary enrollment that occurs during times of economic instability; and

WHEREAS, the need to respond to the effects of inflation on taxpayers and the education system constitutes an extraordinary occasion. The state cannot risk inaction in the face of sustained, intransigent inflation;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Brad Little, Governor of the State of Idaho, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the State of Idaho, do hereby proclaim that the 66th Idaho Legislature shall convene in an extraordinary session in the legislative chambers of the Idaho State Capitol in Boise City, Ada County, beginning at the hour of 8:00 a.m. on the 1st day of September 2022, for the following enumerated purpose and no other:

To consider the passage and enactment of the attached RS29902C1, which shall (1) provide a one-time tax rebate of no more than $500 million, (2) establish a corporate and individual flat tax rate no lower than 5.8%, and (3) dedicate no less than $410 million to public education.

The Idaho Legislature convened by this Proclamation shall have no power to legislate on any other subjects during the extraordinary session.

I HEREBY DIRECT AND REQUIRE that a copy of this Proclamation be delivered to the presiding officers of the Idaho Senate and House of Representatives, to each of the members of the 66th Idaho Legislature, and to the Constitutional Officers of Idaho at the earliest practicable time.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Idaho at the Capitol in Boise on this 31st day of August, in the year of our Lord two thousand and twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred forty-seventh, and of the Statehood of Idaho the one hundred thirty-third.

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Pro Tem, Mr. President, honored legislators, my fellow constitutional officers, Mr. Chief Justice and members of the judiciary, my family, friends, and my fellow Idahoans.

Only one word captures what we have accomplished for Idahoans over the past few years - historic.

Our state's success is nothing short of extraordinary.

Less than three years ago, an unpredictable storm arose, threatening to weaken us and make us lose sight of our destination. Thankfully, we stayed on course.

Throughout these turbulent few years, we never lost our direction because we always put IDAHO FIRST.

And now, Idaho IS first (or near first) in just about every national ranking of economic strength, budget stability, and good government.

We didn't just weather the storm, we thrived.

Folks, our success did not happen by accident.

What we're doing is working, and I am prepared to work with all of you to accelerate our pace, continue leading the country, and keep putting IDAHO FIRST.

The People's House today is full of energy, enthusiasm, and sincere motivation to get things done. I want to congratulate you, our legislators, those new to this process and those who have been around for awhile. I am very excited to work with all of you, and I thank you for your genuine desire to serve the people of Idaho.

I also want to congratulate all the legislators in leadership, especially my good friend and colleague for many years, our new House Speaker, Mike Moyle. I know that by working together, with Speaker Moyle, Pro Tem Chuck Winder, and all of you - my legislative partners - we will do more historic things for the State of Idaho.

We also have some new constitutional officers - Superintendent of Public Instruction Debbie Critchfield, Attorney General Raul Labrador, Secretary of State Phil McGrane, and our new Lt. Governor Scott Bedke.

Please join me in congratulating them, and everyone who earned the confidence of the voters in November!

I also want to acknowledge the person in my life who grounds me and reinforces family values every day - our First Lady, Teresa. Teresa, you have always prioritized the things that matter most in life. Thank you. I love you.

And to the people of Idaho, I am so humbled and grateful that you trust me to be your Governor for the next four years. It has been the greatest honor of my life to serve you and help chart a course for our state. Thank you.

After any election, the political wonks (including myself) dive deep into the results. And one thing on the ballot was more popular than any contested candidate.

What was it? The people's vote on education and tax relief.

80-percent - four out of five Idaho voters - approve of what we achieved during the 2022 extraordinary session last September.

We recognized the financial emergency facing Idaho families and schools as they grapple with the impacts of 40-year high inflation. We used our projected budget surplus to provide every Idahoan an immediate tax rebate and passed a new, lower flat income tax so Idahoans can keep more of their hard-earned money moving forward.

We also put the single largest ongoing investment ever into Idaho education - $330 million for public schools and $80 million for in-demand career training.

The people's vote affirming tax relief and our education investments passed in every single county, every single city, and every single legislative district.

The overwhelming support of our plan means, unmistakably, Idahoans expect us to support public schools.

Idahoans spoke loud and clear with their votes.

And... I will sheepishly admit, I checked the ballot results in Emmett. Would you believe, funding education and cutting taxes was more popular than their hometown governor?

It's one of those healthy reminders that WHAT we do here is far more important than any one of us, and the work we do will outlive all of us.

Let's focus on the big things. Let's spend our time and energy to improve the lives of Idahoans for generations to come.

With the winds at our back and a strong mandate from every corner of Idaho, let's work together to translate the people's vote into action by making - dare I say historic - investments in education, a reality.

Here's what else I took from the election. Idahoans like being first in economic momentum, revenue growth, job growth, responsible government, and cutting red tape. Idahoans like being a top ten state for economic outlook and strong fiscal policy. Idahoans like a flourishing economy, historic tax relief, and record education investments.

Plain and simple, the people of Idaho have given us a mandate: to stay on course, put IDAHO FIRST, continue down this path of prosperity, and keep investing in education.

To the people of Idaho: we are listening, and we will continue to deliver. We are not backing down on education; we are doubling down on education.

The budget and policy recommendations I am mapping out today deliver on the mandate given to us by the people of Idaho.

My plan is called IDAHO FIRST.

And first in the plan is education.

Four years ago, I stated my goal: to make Idaho the place where we ALL can have the opportunity to thrive, where our children and grandchildren choose to stay, and for the ones who have left to choose to return.

Expanded economic opportunities are providing the jobs for our kids, and now we need to foster better jobs, higher incomes, and a better quality of life that we all can be proud of.

I'm a businessman and a family man. I look at every issue through the lens of what our businesses and families need to prosper. We all benefit from a strong economy, one where businesses can offer rewarding careers and opportunities that lead to strong families and strong communities.

As I travel the state and listen to employers about their challenges, workforce tops the list.

We've made huge progress in connecting employers with resources to train employees, and my IDAHO FIRST plan helps get even more skilled workers through their doors.

I am very proud to announce my budget provides access to a scholarship of $8,500 starting next year to graduating high school students in Idaho to attend an Idaho university, community college, career technical or workforce training program of their choice.

Never have we provided a catalyst of this magnitude for students to "go on," in whatever way suits them. There are many pathways to success in today's economy and all pathways deserve our support. For some students, it means getting their CDL, becoming a lineman, or pursuing welding. For others, it is engineering, teaching, healthcare, or business. No matter what path a student chooses we are making it easier for them to get the advanced training they need to propel themselves and Idaho's economy forward.

The "Idaho Launch" scholarship will be the single largest investment in career technical and workforce education in state history.

We want Idaho students brought up in Idaho schools working in Idaho jobs.

This past fall, the student body presidents at College of Western Idaho, Boise State University, Lewis-Clark State College, and University of Idaho wrote an article on the need to invest directly in our students - our future workforce.

The students, Adam Jones from Emmett, Tanner McClain from Middleton, Caden Massey from Kamiah, and Flora Koenig from Boise said, "...Now more than ever we can't afford for our students to leave Idaho... A statewide scholarship program will not only benefit Idaho students but will help to keep our economy growing and competitive for the next generation... It is time to keep Idaho's future in Idaho."

I don't know about you, but I think these students nailed it. We have them here with us today. Adam, Tanner, Caden, and Flora, please stand so we can recognize you.

A person's foundation for success in life starts very young, and it starts in the home. The education of our children will always rest first and foremost with the family. Schools are partners with parents, and that is why we are making historic investments in both families and schools.

Where parents are heavily involved in their child's school and education, we see better academic performance.

In fact, Idaho is first in the nation for overall return on investment for education spending, which speaks to the dedication of Idaho families to prepare their children for productive learning every single day.

We are also third in the nation for education freedom - measures that include spending, school choice, transparency, and regulations.

Whether it is traditional public schools, public charter schools, public magnet schools, private schools, online academies, or homeschooling, hundreds of schooling options are available to Idaho families.

In fact, Idaho is one of only a handful of states with the fewest restrictions on allowing parents to send their child to any public school they wish, and we are a top ten state for the number of students enrolled in public charter schools.

To further reinforce parents' role as the primary decision makers in their children's education, my IDAHO FIRST plan makes permanent the Empowering Parents grant program. The grants help families take charge of tools for their children's education - things like computers and software, instructional materials, and tutoring. These resources help children progress outside of the classroom. To date, we have served tens of thousands of students with these grants.

The Empowering Parents grants are effective, popular, and worthy of continued investment. Most importantly, they keep parents in the driver's seat of their children's education, as it should be.

The Idaho Constitution recognizes the endurance of our republican form of government depends upon an educated, intelligent people. As such, the founders spelled out the duty to "establish and maintain a general uniform and thorough system of public free common schools."

As elected leaders, we promise to uphold this contract with the people when we take the oath of office.

Our commitment to public schools is both our constitutional obligation and it is our moral obligation.

My IDAHO FIRST plan delivers on both the constitutional mandate and the mandate from the voters of Idaho by investing in our public schools.

Here with us today, we have some fourth graders and fifth graders from Centennial Elementary School in Nampa, and their teacher, Jaimee Hoelsing. Thank you for being here.

What better way to strengthen our schools than to invest in the people on the frontlines of education - our teachers.

Teachers get to work early so they are prepared when their students arrive. Teachers are adapting all day long to a variety of learning styles and individual needs. Teachers spend their evenings and weekends grading papers and replying to parents and students. Best of all, teachers are passionate about preparing students for eventual careers and making them feel safe and supported.

Our students and their families deserve quality teachers who are respected and compensated competitively. Great teachers can motivate and change the trajectory of a student's life.

That is why my plan boosts starting teacher pay yet again - finally targeting Idaho in the top 10 states for starting teacher pay.

When I started this job four years ago, Idaho was 41st in the country for starting teacher pay. In four short years, we will have catapulted starting teacher pay in Idaho from the bottom 10 to the top 10.

We're also going to grow the salaries of all teachers, including the most experienced ones, to ensure students have the classroom support they need.

What does that mean for the average Idaho teacher? A $6,300 pay raise.

When we show teachers we support them, we're showing families their child's education is our priority.

I am also proud that we have made great advances in my top education priority over the past four years - literacy.

Learning to read from a young age is the best foundation for learning later on and makes our investments worthwhile. Since I took office, we have increased literacy funding five-fold. Local school districts determine how best to deploy the resources, everything from expanded Kindergarten, reading coaches, reduced class sizes, or summer reading programs.

This past fall, reading scores for all Kindergarten-through-third grade students are the highest in years, with impressive gains among our youngest learners. The scores are steadily increasing, and while we have more work to do, the results are encouraging and they show we are headed in the right direction.

We must continue to prepare our younger generation with the education, skills, and lifelong passion for learning - and that's why we are putting IDAHO FIRST and education first.

You know, most people want the same things - health, safety, high quality of life, freedom to choose their own path, strong schools, an abundance of rewarding, reliable career opportunities, and to keep more of their hard-earned money.

Our ability to deliver on those things - or at least not stand in the way of them - determines our fate. We've all seen states that continually fail. As a result, people don't want to live there.

But in Idaho, we are striking the right balance between investing in key critical areas like our schools and giving back more of Idahoans' money. In just three years, we have given back more than ever before in Idaho history - a whopping $2.7 billion to Idaho citizens and businesses.

No other state in the country has given more tax relief per capita than Idaho. And we're not done yet!

We deployed $2.7 billion in immediate tax relief in four ways: slashing payroll taxes for small businesses, increasing the grocery tax credit, giving Idahoans the largest-ever reimbursement of their property taxes in 2020, and of course, back-to-back-to-back income tax rebates and back-to-back-to-back tax cuts for both personal income and corporate income.

The tax rebates helped thousands of small businesses across our state as well as senior citizens on fixed income, providing relief from crushing inflation where everything from food to fuel has skyrocketed.

Our commitment to cutting taxes doesn't just start and end with one-time relief. We also cut back Idahoans' ongoing tax burden by more than $650 million. We took the income tax from six brackets down to one and created a fair, predictable, and lower flat income tax once and for all.

Folks, what we're doing is working.

Consider this: the Tax Foundation ranks states on their business tax climate. It is a useful barometer of a state's competitiveness to attract and retain businesses. In just four years we've risen six spots, and that's even before accounting for the income tax reductions adopted during last year's special session.

Cutting taxes keeps our business climate competitive, allows Idahoans to keep more of what they earn, and it is just the right thing to do.

One area where we really shine may surprise you. The Tax Foundation ranks Idaho as having the third lowest PROPERTY TAXES in the country.

So why does that feel surprising to so many?

When your property tax bill arrives, you see it at once. It's not hidden in each paycheck. It's not pennies on the dollar on every purchase you make.

You get a bill for the full amount, and I understand why many Idahoans struggling under the weight of record inflation get sticker shock when the bill from local government arrives.

The reality is, no property taxes are paid to state government. No state official in this room can decide what local property taxes will be. Local governments alone set their budgets.

However, some of the parameters around local property tax are set in state law, like the circuit breaker, so people turn to the state leaders in this room for an answer.

Idahoans want relief from rising property taxes, and we hear them. My IDAHO FIRST plan puts another $120 million toward property tax relief to answer the call for help from Idahoans.

There is no doubt Idaho's tremendous pace of growth is putting a strain on services at the local level, which increases the potential to drive up your local property taxes. But too often, we are simply shifting burdens across taxpayers when we should be addressing the needs head-on.

Let us work on better ways to facilitate growth paying for growth and give local governments the tools they need to keep taxes low.

How? By continuing to make long-range strategic investments in roads, water, and other key areas to maintain our high quality of life.

The fact is, investing in local infrastructure IS property tax relief. Over the past two years, we made the biggest investments ever in our most precious resource - water. When we invested in drinking water and wastewater infrastructure, we saved Idaho citizens the local taxes or fees they would otherwise pay to cover those improvements. Now I am proposing more investments in water quantity and water quality infrastructure to not only reduce the burden on local property taxpayers but also to secure abundant clean water for years to come.

Investing in local roads and bridges IS property tax relief. Last year, we put nearly half a billion dollars into local roads, bridges, and airports. We took a major bite out of the backlog of deficient bridges that local governments have struggled for years to repair. And we did it without raising taxes or fees. That buys us not just property tax relief but safer roads, less drive time, and less congestion. Now I am proposing even more for local bridges and new, ongoing funding for transportation safety and capacity to build on our success.

We will continue to help keep taxes low, but we must do so responsibly.

We all see the flashing red lights in the economy. Washington, D.C., is driving America toward an economic cliff and seemingly pushing down on the gas.

Perhaps never have Lt. Governor Bedke's grandfather's words rung more true: "It won't be the bad years that put you out of business; it's what you did in the good years that sets you up for failure or success."

We must be prudent. We must prepare for the impending economic downturn, and now more than ever we must make wise decisions that stand the test of time. We can't cut beyond the level of service Idahoans demand, and we must not use our one-time surplus for wasteful spending.

Given the economic volatility on the near horizon, this may be our one last shot in the near future to make strategic tax cuts that will sustain a balanced budget over time.

Let's work together and unlock our creativity to put these $120 million of property tax relief to the highest and best use.

We're also making a difference with our investments in safe and healthy communities.

We're on track to advance all of the recommendations from our historic three-branch Behavioral Health Council, and this year my IDAHO FIRST plan does even more to improve resources for troubled youth in mental health crises. We are also going to make behavioral health services more accessible for the neediest of our neighbors and add more doctors for rural Idaho and more healthcare workers overall.

And my IDAHO FIRST plan Backs the Blue again, adding 10-percent pay raises for our brave and dedicated law enforcement officers. What does this mean for your average state police trooper? It means a $6,000 raise.

I've said it before and I'll say it again, while other places seek to defund the police, here in Idaho we DEFEND the police!

Our men and women in law enforcement work tirelessly to keep us safe, many times confronting the most heinous side of humanity. This past fall, four young lives were ended in one of the worst crimes our state and our nation has seen. Ethan, Kaylee, Xana, and Maddie were brutally murdered in a home near the University of Idaho campus. The loss of these incredible people is felt exponentially, and we will never forget them. We will vigorously seek justice for the victims and the many loved ones they leave behind, and I ask everyone now to please pause in a moment of silence and prayer for them.

Our law enforcement heroes handled this loss with professionalism, and they routinely encounter dangerous and difficult situations to keep us safe, especially when it comes to fentanyl.

We are losing more and more young lives to the most potent and deadliest drug our society has faced. Fentanyl is 50 times more potent than heroin, 100 hundred times more potent than morphine, and hard to detect. Fentanyl is now the leading cause of death for American adults under 50.

Michael Stabile, a 15-year-old from Coeur d'Alene, was another young Idahoan with a bright future whose promising life was cut short. Michael tragically lost his life when he took a pill he thought was a pain reliever but came from an unknown source. The pill contained a lethal trace of fentanyl - as small as a grain of salt - killing him almost instantly.

Michael's mom and dad, Jennifer and Frank Stabile, are here with us today. Jennifer and Frank, we are so sorry for your loss. Thank you for being here. They described their only child as their "miracle baby," a boy who loved the outdoors and his family dearly.

We are taking steps now to protect our youth from fentanyl, and all of these steps grew out of our Operation Esto Perpetua initiative last year.

To root out this growing problem, I am calling for the development of a new statewide drug interdiction team at the Idaho State Police. In addition, enhanced testing and training and a new educational awareness campaign we just launched will help.

Our campaign is called "All it Takes," and it launched last week at FentanylTakesAll.org. It will feature Michael's story and the stories of many other young Idahoans who lost their lives to accidental fentanyl poisoning.

We aim to inform our youth about the dangers of fentanyl - its accessibility, its potency, and its ability to take everything from you and your loved ones, as it did to the Stabiles.

I have seen for myself how Mexico drug cartels control access into our country under the current administration. The vast majority of illicit drugs in Idaho, including fentanyl, are sourced in Mexico. We will not relent in our efforts to end the supply of fentanyl by continuing to work with our states to the south and helping to secure our border.

In 2021, the State of Arizona called for support in controlling the chaos at the border. I sent a team of drug interdiction specialists with ISP to help. I'm pleased to announce that I am sending a team BACK to the border. They will hone their skills and return with even better knowledge to train police in our state on the best ways to get fentanyl off our streets.

Colonel Ked Wills and a few of our state police are here with us today, including Sergeant Darren Gilbertson, Sergeant Chris Cottrell, and Trooper Mitch Howard.

Our law enforcement, active military, and veterans ALL deserve our gratitude for their service and commitment to Idaho. Thank you.

It's easy to be cynical about government when you see what's happening in Washington, D.C., and other dysfunctional states around the country.

But it's also easy to be inspired by the real difference we are making in Idaho when we put IDAHO FIRST - focusing on schools, tax relief, safe communities, strategic investments, and good government.

Folks, after years of being around the political process, I have learned that politics can complicate otherwise pretty simple concepts.

There is nothing complicated about our state's success.

And there is nothing complicated about how to keep our success going.

IDAHO FIRST: Listen to the people. Stay on course. Keep the big picture in focus. Don't lose our direction. Concentrate on what matters well beyond our time here. Double down on our support of schools and tax relief and continue key investments to keep up with growth and make our communities safe.

It's that simple.

I know you are motivated to get things done, and I am, too. I am grateful for our partnership.

We will put our trust in God, and together we will get our work done efficiently and transparently, focusing on the things that matter.

The people we serve expect us to work together and working together has always been the only way to get HISTORIC things done.

Thank you, and God bless.

Motions and Resolutions

On request by Senator Lee, granted by unanimous consent, President Bedke appointed a committee consisting of Senator Lakey, Chairman, and Senator Wintrow to escort Chief Justice G. Richard Bevan into the Senate Chamber where he delivered the following State of the Judiciary Address:

Mr. President, Mr. President Pro Tem, and distinguished members of the Idaho Senate, my colleagues on the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals, and fellow Idahoans.

Have you ever considered that Idaho's courtrooms are the only places in the state where our citizens can witness all three branches of government in action at the same time? From the application of the laws passed by you, to the enforcement of our state's laws by the executive branch, to the courts' administration and interpretation of the laws, these proceedings affect Idaho's people in profound ways.

I am so grateful for how Idaho's judges manage these important moments in people's lives. They, together with the attorneys and staff who labor there, ensure that the promise of justice for people is not merely a slogan, but a reality.

There may be some here who have never visited an Idaho courtroom. I also recognize that a few of you are attorneys. Some of you may have served as jurors or had cases before the courts yourselves. As the people's representatives, I invite and encourage you to visit the courthouses in your own districts, to see the amazing work that takes place in these government buildings every day.

Idaho's Judicial Branch fulfills specific duties secured by Idaho's Constitution, most prominently Article I, Section 18: "Courts of justice shall be open to every person, and a speedy remedy afforded for every injury of person, property or character, and right and justice shall be administered without sale, denial, delay, or prejudice." Our courts fulfill these responsibilities in a variety of circumstances: hearing prosecutions for crimes from petit theft to murder, giving children new hope through adoptions, resolving multimillion-dollar business or probate disputes, and managing contentious breakups of families. Many of these are very demanding and stress-filled events.

A participant in Idaho's constitutional convention in 1889 observed: "[I]f there is any place in our whole system where politics should be left out of an office, it is in that of the supreme court of the state." For this system to work correctly, our judges cannot make decisions based on politics, popularity or the public's wishes, no matter how forceful the drumbeat of the populist band. We construe the law as written. As Chief Justice Roberts has said, the role of a judge is to call balls and strikes; we are not to pitch or bat. Judges simply must follow the rule of law — which applies to us in the Judicial Branch the same as to anyone else in this state. Sometimes this means we reach unpopular conclusions that raise questions. But this is what our Constitution demands and what our judges provide: justice based on the rule of law, no matter the judge's personal views of the legal principle being applied.

The Idaho Supreme Court's rulings sometimes draw the most attention, but nearly all the courts' work is done in Idaho's local courtrooms — in places like Bonners Ferry, Soda Springs, Driggs, and Weiser. Our 150 magistrate and district judges toil across more than 120 courtrooms in Idaho, rendering decisions based on an evenhanded application of the law. Each of them makes sacrifices for a career in public service.

A judge and court staff must keep the thousands of cases moving while treating all parties without favoritism. And their work does not stop at the courtroom door: Judges volunteer to lead treatment courts and provide education in their communities.

For judges to deliver on all that I have described is no simple task. The job of a judge has become increasingly fraught. The need to remain impartial means it can be isolating work. And personal safety is a topic increasingly on our minds.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower said, "The clearest way to show what the rule of law means to us in everyday life is to recall what has happened when there is no rule of law." Unfortunately, we live in an age when those who object to the balance in our fair and democratic republic seem increasingly disposed to tearing it down. You see it in your own communities. This climate affects the judiciary in increasingly direct and dangerous ways.

We judges understand that disagreement with our decisions is part of the landscape in which we operate. But when disagreement becomes personal, to the point of threats against personal safety and security, with individuals publishing our private information online, or coming to our homes for face-to-face confrontation, which I and other Idaho judges have experienced, a line has been crossed that must be reinforced — and reinforced convincingly.

We now see protests at judges' homes meant to, I suppose, disturb their peace, to scare them into submission or to sway their rulings. Some may see this as a means to undermine the core of the rule of law. In some circles the hue and cry has escalated to threats against the lives of judges, including justices on our nation's highest court. In Idaho, we see veiled threats made online against the courts.

The judges to whom these threats are directed are simply doing their difficult job of making decisions within an established framework of law, regardless of their personal feelings about those laws. These interactions at their homes, at their places of respite and peace, are not just an affront to the rule of law, but also a danger that we ask you to address. Indeed, we have become sadly aware in the recent past of a judge in Wisconsin who was murdered, and judge's family members in New Jersey and Illinois being killed.

These circumstances deter otherwise talented individuals from becoming judges. Last spring, we surveyed members of the Idaho State Bar about judicial service as a career. Among their most common concerns about becoming a judge was our increasingly polarized political environment. Among all the bills you consider this session, please support any legislation that says two things: (1) the independence of the judiciary must remain inviolable, and (2) judges' safety is paramount.

Judicial work goes beyond hearings and trials. The job description is about resolving people's disagreements, while also supporting growth in the people we serve, and developing healthier communities.

One of our deputy trial court administrators recently picked up a lunch order. The manager at the restaurant identified herself as a former drug court participant and said how grateful she was for our judges who gave her a second chance. Her life change wasn't from a one-and-done hearing before a busy judge. It involved attention and investment by a judge who volunteered to work extended hours, in addition to her or his standard caseload, toiling in early mornings or late nights, to intervene directly in that person's life and improve her outcomes.

With all this in mind, one of the most important requests I bring you this year is for a salary increase for our judges. Judicial compensation by law is set separately from that of other state employees, and thus requires both substantive legislation and an allocation from the General Fund. Money for a judicial salary increase was appropriated last year, but the substantive statute was not updated to allow it to be paid. This left judges the only state employees not to receive a change in salary in 2022.

Only attorneys who have held a license to practice law for at least five years can seek to become judges in this state — the requirement is at least 10 years to become a district or appellate judge. In all cases, they must have also been a legal resident of Idaho and a member of the Idaho Bar for at least two years. This means our pool of potential new judges comes exclusively from Idaho.

Compensation — particularly, compensation that is more competitive with what an experienced Idaho attorney can earn in today's market — was also among the important concerns raised in our survey of the Bar. For district court openings in 2022 we averaged just five attorneys per opening. With no disrespect to those who applied, this is simply inadequate. Indeed, our neighbor Utah's judicial compensation commission is recommending a 10% pay raise for Utah judges based on the limited number of lawyers applying for judgeships, where the applicant pool has shrunk by more than half since 2011.

Further complicating the situation is the economic backdrop. After the workforce uncertainties of the past three years, our branch is not the only part of government grappling with how to keep positions competitive. In some counties that have granted pay increases, certain attorneys are paid as much as or more than the district judge in whose courtroom they appear. This discrepancy affects our ability to recruit highly qualified attorneys to the judiciary.

I ask that this session you consider legislation on judicial compensation that helps maintain a highly qualified and experienced judiciary.

As the third branch of government, Idaho's judges must be independent, but we believe strongly in collaboration to serve the public. One example is the work of the Idaho Behavioral Health Council, which I will speak to later. Another example is our partnership with each of Idaho's 44 county governments to conduct the day-to-day work of the courts. Behind each of our access to justice services, you will find dedicated court staff who process filings, develop the record, offer translation, provide security, and perform too many other duties for me to list. Increasingly, we see challenges in filling court positions, and in keeping experienced staff who find less stressful, more lucrative opportunities elsewhere.

Though our courts are a "unified and integrated judicial system for administration and supervision by the Supreme Court" (Idaho Const. art. V, § 2), we strive daily to support our county partners who have to provide court facilities. For example, when counties upgrade or renovate courtrooms, the Supreme Court provides certain equipment to ensure all courtrooms have consistent and appropriate technology to preserve the official court record, to present evidence and to manage remote proceedings when needed.

Included in these technological advances is a new system we are offering to counties that will allow courts to oversee the summoning and managing of juries more efficiently. Historically, counties have selected, purchased, and managed their own jury systems. The result is that Idaho's citizens who are summoned to be on juries have disparate experiences and services depending on what their county can fund. Some counties have been able to provide simpler online and phone systems for jurors; others have not. Some counties have been able to text status updates to jurors; most have not. The Court's jury management system, offered to all counties, can provide efficiencies, and simplify the process for all Idahoans called as jurors.

Many counties are now interested in using our solution as their own systems are being decommissioned, and we are offering this solution to the counties at no charge. You have a request before you this session to fund added services that will improve the options available to our counties through this advancement.

Smooth trial management helps us continue to address our case backlog. In calendar year 2022, we held over 20% more jury trials than in 2021, and over 30% more jury trials than in 2020. We have made particular headway on felony criminal cases. Statewide, we closed 12,700 felony criminal cases in 2022, more than 1,000 more than we closed in 2020.

I advised when I last spoke to you that it could take a couple of years to fully address the effects of the pandemic. I'm pleased to share that our courts are diligently addressing these circumstances. Our courthouses hosted as many trials in 2022 as they could arrange with the resources available. Mediation has been in high demand to resolve both civil and criminal cases. Some courts have found more success than others, and some had little backlog, putting them in a better place to start with. All are making noble efforts to resolve these pending cases.

Modern technology helps us move cases along, and it brings continued benefits for court users. "Access to justice" means three things for every person facing a legal issue. First, they are able to secure their rights under the law; second, they can be part of a fair process to resolve claims; and third, they receive a timely and impartial resolution of their case.

In the past, when we've talked about access to justice we've talked often about actions at a physical courthouse: ADA accommodations, language services, and on-site assistance for people representing themselves in court. Technology now offers more ways to make court access easier and less disruptive — and the people of Idaho expect us to use it.

A quick example are remote hearings done over video. Consider a single parent who may need to secure a babysitter or miss work for a 15-minute hearing — or a farmer in the field whose day is interrupted by that short court appearance. In both cases, thoughtful use of videoconferencing makes court more convenient while maintaining each person's rights and options.

With video, interpreters can now help litigants from afar. Self-represented people get help from our court assistance offices who review their legal documents over email. And our Guide & File service helps those self-represented parties understand and submit certain filings without ever having to enter a courthouse.

The Supreme Court is rescinding the last of our emergency orders from the pandemic, but remote proceedings as a courtroom tool are here to stay. Earlier this month, we issued an order extending our current directives on remote proceedings while we study long-term rules and procedures. I look forward to updating you on what those become.

With these technological innovations, security for the courts' digital court records is a constant concern. Cybersecurity requires vigilance to protect the courts from threats both local and international, as conflict in other parts of the world can lead to an increase in cyberattacks against governments within the U.S. Online tools to impersonate people, to steal their identities and cause chaos are only becoming more refined and accessible.

Our Information Technology Division stays hard at work installing better protections for our computer-dependent court system and its electronic records. Our digital security applications have successfully rejected the threats so far, maintaining the steady operation of the courts and the safety of our data. But cybersecurity risks are ever-changing, and the resources required to fight them are ongoing.

The primary way we pay for all our technology needs, including the advances just mentioned, is through the Court Technology Fund. It is financed through fees this body has imposed in criminal and civil court cases. But as the evidence now shows, and as my predecessors have noted through the years, running a court department with a user-funded system is unworkable. As a result, the Court Technology Fund now faces unprecedented challenges. Technology costs in the past five years have risen an average of 9% each year. That's nearly 50%. Meanwhile, in the last three years in particular, the court fines and fees that support this fund have declined an average of 5% each year. That's over 15%.

These increased expenses are not limited to those associated with holding court remotely. They include cybersecurity protection and computer equipment for our local clerks and judges, not to mention cost increases of as much as 30% in software licenses and credit card processing fees. The technology fund also pays the salaries for our court technology employees, which have increased in the recent past as well.

The Idaho Supreme Court is working with a third-party consultant to reassess our technology costs and develop a stable, efficient method to fund them. I look forward to when I can bring you that long-term plan. Until then, we seek your help to provide short-term support for the Court Technology Fund and its important essentials. This includes a request for one-time dollars to supplement our current technology needs, and a request to move three key information technology positions from the Court Technology Fund to the General Fund.

One other funding change is already in the making: When parties submit documents for filing, our e-filing software provider charges a fee for processing each civil filing through what are called "electronic envelopes." We have covered the charges for these envelope fees through the Court Technology Fund. Now, the fund cannot continue to pay for these expenses as a subsidy for civil litigants. Last year the Legislature provided one-time funding for these fees while we determined a solution. Beginning in July this year, civil filers will pay this fee at a cost of no more than $5 per envelope. This fee will be a recoverable cost of litigation through court rules, and there will be no such fee associated with criminal filings.

While I have focused on our challenges thus far, I am also pleased to report on our successes.

Treatment courts provide support, supervision and accountability for people in the justice system with significant substance abuse and mental health issues. Beyond just imposing consequences, these courts help participants achieve stability, sobriety, and become valuable members of their communities.

Idaho is a national leader in the treatment court space. In what is now our twenty-fifth year since our first treatment court was launched in Kootenai County, we continue to evolve and improve them.

Various drug, veterans, DUI and mental health courts are now available in 86% of Idaho's local courthouses. Lives change and continue to change, as nearly 500 people graduated from treatment courts in the 2022 fiscal year, and 36 drug-free babies were born to mothers participating in those treatment courts — statistics that I find delight in reporting. The ripple effect of these transformations goes well beyond the literal cost savings in corrections or to our societies from reduced drugs and crime. These benefits are profound and immeasurable for these graduates, their families, friends and communities. I invite you to attend a graduation in one of these courts to witness for yourselves the impact these courts have.

This past year, the Supreme Court adopted rules to support these courts. The rules provide uniformity for our adult treatment courts while still allowing for local variations in practice. This exercise was truly a community effort, with input from judges, our Treatment Court Committee, local stakeholders and members of the public. We hope the rules will lead to even greater success in these courts - providing good options to avoid incarceration when feasible.

In addition, the judiciary continues to support the mission of the Idaho Behavioral Health Council, our collaboration across the three branches of government focused on better solutions for those in this state who live with mental illness and addiction.

One piece of the Council's work that the Judicial Branch directs is an exercise that brings together stakeholders from across a community's behavioral health and justice systems to better understand how those systems overlap. These discussions lead to solutions that address gaps in behavioral health services.

We have previously relied on national facilitators to lead these exercises. In an important development, we now have skilled Idaho facilitators who can conduct this work, leaving us more flexible and capable of deeper conversations on potential gaps. As this continues, we'll be able to see the overlap in what communities need for behavioral health training and resources — data that I hope will also aid your own decisions on funding and policy.

As you've seen, the work of the courts is wide-ranging and weighty. President Andrew Jackson once expressed: "All the rights secured to the citizens under the Constitution are worth nothing, and a mere bubble, except guaranteed to them by an independent and virtuous judiciary." I wholeheartedly agree and ask your support of that objective. I hope today I have helped each of you better understand the work of our branch. With your support, we will continue to accomplish our duty of delivering fair and reasoned justice every day.

Thank you.

The President thanked Chief Justice Bevan for his remarks and Senator Lakey, Chairman, and Senator Wintrow escorted Chief Justice Bevan from the Chamber, and the Committee was discharged.

SCR 101

BY HEALTH AND WELFARE COMMITTEE

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

STATING FINDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE AND REQUESTING THAT THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND WELFARE DEVELOP DRAFT LEGISLATION ESTABLISHING A STATEWIDE PLANNING, COORDINATION, AND FUNDING SYSTEM FOR EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

WHEREAS, emergency medical services (EMS) are an essential pillar of a well-functioning health system that can provide a range of services, including life-saving treatment for acute illnesses and injuries, patient transport, and community health outreach and follow-up; and

WHEREAS, the existence of a reliable EMS response throughout Idaho is vital to the well-being of all those who live, work, and recreate in Idaho; and

WHEREAS, Idaho does not have a statewide EMS planning, coordination, and funding system that ensures reasonable availability of EMS throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, EMS in Idaho's rural communities is often provided by volunteer personnel; and

WHEREAS, demand for EMS is rapidly increasing across the state due to population growth, changing demographics, and increasing travel and tourism; and

WHEREAS, the rising cost of meeting increased EMS demand and readiness for residents and visitors is exceeding the resources and capabilities of local EMS agencies across the state, especially in rural areas served by volunteer EMS personnel; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature requested that the Office of Performance Evaluations (OPE) study the availability of EMS in rural Idaho in 2010 and 2020, resulting most recently in OPE's 2021 report, "Volunteer Providers of Emergency Medical Services"; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Health and Welfare convened the EMS Sustainability Task Force in June 2022 to seek policy solutions that provide a sustainable EMS system capable of appropriate, reliable response to medical emergencies throughout Idaho.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the First Regular Session of the Sixty-seventh Idaho Legislature, the Senate and the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Legislature requests that the Department of Health and Welfare continue to convene the EMS Sustainability Task Force and, in cooperation with the Legislative Services Office, draft legislation for the 2024 regular legislative session that recognizes EMS as an essential service and establishes a statewide EMS planning, coordination, and funding system to ensure reasonable availability of EMS across the state.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature requests that the Department of Health and Welfare facilitate planning activities with county officials to develop proposed EMS operational plans for each county that support the findings of the EMS Sustainability Task Force and identify current capabilities, proposed response structures, and resource needs.

SCR 102

BY AGRICULTURAL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

STATING FINDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE AND AUTHORIZING THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL TO APPOINT A COMMITTEE TO UNDERTAKE AND COMPLETE A STUDY OF AGRICULTURAL ISSUES.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

WHEREAS, the largest sector of the Idaho economy is the agricultural sector. Over one million Idahoans are involved in some way in the agricultural economic sector and the agricultural sector is also Idaho's largest exporter. It is therefore a high priority of the Legislature to ensure that Idaho's agricultural businesses have the tools and opportunities to thrive, to be profitable, to employ Idahoans, and to support a growing gross domestic product for the State of Idaho; and

WHEREAS, beginning in 2020 there have been trends in the national and worldwide agricultural economies that can potentially undermine Idaho's agriculture economy. These include the accelerated purchase of Idaho agriculture lands by outside interests, the practice of inoculating farm and ranch animals with the untested mRNA gene therapy shots, modifications in animal feed that have reduced yields, an unexplained increase of food processing plants being out of production because of supply chain disruptions, plant maintenance deficiencies and unusual accidents, inflation in consumer food products that exceeds the inflation rates of other consumer products, shortages of fertilizer, a sharp decline in the growth of Idaho's agricultural economy during the Covid-19 pandemic, the curtailment of business and restrictions on employment resulting from the state's response to the Covid-19 pandemic, and other factors that create challenges for agribusiness.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the First Regular Session of the Sixty-seventh Idaho Legislature, the Senate and the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Legislative Council is authorized to appoint a committee to undertake and complete a study of agricultural issues of importance to the State of Idaho. The committee shall consist of six (6) members, with three (3) members from the Senate, one (1) of whom shall be cochair of the committee, and three (3) members from the House of Representatives, one (1) of whom shall be cochair of the committee. Members from the Senate shall be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and members from the House of Representatives shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. No more than two (2) members from the Senate and no more than two (2) members from the House of Representatives shall be from the same political party. Appointments to the committee shall be for the term of office of the member appointed. Any vacancy shall be filled in a manner consistent with the appointment procedure set forth in this clause, except the appointment shall be for the remainder of the unexpired term. A committee member may be reappointed to the committee.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee shall meet at the call of the cochairs as needed, but no less than three times during the interim.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee shall make recommendations to the Legislature and to the Governor regarding actions, policies, and recommended legislation necessary to protect, promote, and grow the agricultural sector of Idaho's economy.

SJM 101 BY STATE AFFAIRS COMMITTEE A JOINT MEMORIAL

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED, AND TO THE CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION REPRESENTING THE STATE OF IDAHO IN THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES.

We, your Memorialists, the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Idaho assembled in the First Regular Session of the Sixty-seventh Idaho Legislature, do hereby respectfully represent that:

WHEREAS, the federal government of the United States is vested with the responsibility and authority to establish terms of naturalization, to control immigration, and to otherwise establish, regulate, and enforce the terms and conditions upon which aliens may enter the United States from foreign places, remain in the United States, what activities aliens may engage in while present in the United States, terms of permanent residency, and the grant of citizenship, in addition to control of the United States border; and

WHEREAS, the Congress and President of the United States have failed to fulfill their Constitutional responsibility as it pertains to immigration law and policy, have failed to provide a secure border, have failed to consistently and uniformly enforce existing immigration law, and have failed to provide a robust and efficient system for entry of guestworkers to the United States capable of meeting the labor demands of domestic business; and

WHEREAS, as a result of these failures of the federal government, tremendous challenges are placed upon state and local governments to provide for the general welfare of all persons within their jurisdiction, whether that relates to education, enforcement of state and local law, health care, highway safety, and more; and

WHEREAS, as a further result of these failures of the federal government, the security of the United States and of the several states, including Idaho, is threatened and harmed by the unavailability of lawful labor needed to harvest, process, and transport our domestic food supply, to extract mineral, gas, oil, and timber resources, to build homes, businesses and highways, and to provide other basic life necessities, the lack of which leads to increased dependence upon foreign production and threatens our national security; and

WHEREAS, as a further result of these failures of the federal government, the security of the United States and of the several states, including Idaho, is threatened and harmed by unlawful entry to the United States of those that seek to cause us harm, human traffickers, and drug traffickers; and

WHEREAS, it is estimated that, as of 2018, there were 11.4 million people present in the United States without lawful status, and current estimates are that 2.4 million people are employed in agriculture. The vast majority of this population have jobs, are hard workers, pay taxes, and are critical to the economic production of domestic business, and further it would be impractical to incarcerate or deport a class of people uniformly and without regard to circumstances; and

WHEREAS, it is incumbent upon the Congress and President of the United States to strengthen our national security and the security of the several states, including Idaho, by adopting targeted, common sense, business-focused, market-driven immigration reform, which at its core must include the following:

(1) An effective system of external and internal security at and within the borders of the United States that excludes from entry people that do not have lawful permission to enter the United States, which incorporates modern technology to prevent, deter, detect, and detain those that seek to enter the United States by unlawful means, and which implements processes such as "e-verify" to prevent fraudulent use of social security numbers to obtain employment or other government benefits; and

(2) An effective guestworker program that meets the labor needs and demands of year-round agriculture, construction, hospitality, food processing, manufacturing, technology and other market sectors, and in particular allows cyclical worker visas of adequate length to meet the labor demands of Idaho agriculture and business; and

(3) An effective process by which persons currently present in the United States without lawful status and who are gainfully employed and their immediate family can obtain work authorization or residency status, without a pathway to United States citizenship, provided said persons have no criminal history beyond their immigration-related violations, and provided further that an appropriate fine is assessed and paid in satisfaction of their immigration-related violations; and

WHEREAS, targeted immigration reform is of vital necessity to the citizens and businesses of the State of Idaho, and as such it is incumbent upon the congressional delegation representing the State of Idaho in the Congress of the United States to be outspoken and fervent leaders and continue to be advocates for immigration reform consistent with the principles set forth in this Joint Memorial.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the First Regular Session of the Sixty-seventh Idaho Legislature, the Senate and the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Idaho Legislature requests and calls upon the President of the United States and the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States to take action with all deliberate speed to adopt and implement targeted immigration reform in a manner consistent with the principles set forth in this Joint Memorial.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the congressional delegation representing the State of Idaho in the Congress of the United States is requested and called upon to take action with all deliberate speed to advocate for and introduce federal legislation implementing targeted immigration reform in a manner consistent with the principles set forth in this Joint Memorial.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be, and she is hereby authorized and directed to forward a copy of this Joint Memorial to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of Congress, and to the congressional delegation representing the State of Idaho in the Congress of the United States.

BY STATE AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

STATING FINDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE, RECOGNIZING, HONORING, AND COMMENDING GLENN HARRIS FOR HIS YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE IDAHO LEGISLATURE, ITS EMPLOYEES, AND THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF IDAHO, AND WISHING HIM WELL IN HIS RETIREMENT.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

WHEREAS, Glenn Harris has worked for the Legislature since 1990 and will be retiring July 17, 2023; and

WHEREAS, in 1979, Glenn received a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Tulane University. In 1987, Glenn then earned a master's degree in computer science from Eastern Washington University. Prior to joining the Legislative Services Office, Glenn was employed by IBM as a systems analyst; and

WHEREAS, Glenn was initially hired by the State of Idaho on October 15, 1990, as a Data Processing Manager with what was then known as the Legislative Auditor. His first session was in 1991; and

WHEREAS, Glenn was soon promoted to the position of Legislative Network Supervisor and, when the IT Division was created, Glenn's title became IT Division Manager. Glenn has overseen or personally implemented all of the technology the Legislative Services Office now has in place; and

WHEREAS, Glenn manages a team that is responsible for the Legislature's network and bill drafting software, as well as computer and AV support for all meeting rooms in the Capitol; and

WHEREAS, Glenn designed, installed, and managed the Legislature's first true PC network as well as designed and wrote the first computer-based voting system for the Idaho House of Representatives. Glenn also developed the Legislature's first help desk system; and

WHEREAS, as an example of Glenn's dedicated service, some will recall that in the very early 2000s, on the Saturday morning before session convened on Monday, an alarm associated with the Novelle network went off. Glenn and another IT coworker rushed to the Capitol to discover the server had crashed and there was nothing on it. They retrieved the backup tapes and went through three sets of them only to find absolutely nothing. They contacted Novelle support in Los Angeles and worked together to no avail until the facility closed for the day. Novelle had Glenn and his coworker contact the support facility in Australia. They worked with Australia through the night until Sunday morning when that facility also closed. The problem was not resolved. They were then referred to a facility in India and they tried to restore the system through Sunday evening when the facility in India closed. They were then referred to London, and a miracle occurred. London knew how to fix the problem. London had them perform three tasks and everything was recovered. The effort was one that ultimately involved roughly 36 hours and three foreign countries, but everything was restored for the start of session the next day; and

WHEREAS, Glenn's staff characterize his leadership as being one of example, empowerment, and encouraging of innovation. Glenn exemplifies what it means to be a dedicated public servant; and

WHEREAS, Glenn will be enjoying the company of his wife and his two sons and their families, including a ten-year-old granddaughter and a one-year-old grandson. In his leisure time, Glenn enjoys music, bicycling, gardening, and golf.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the First Regular Session of the Sixty-seventh Idaho Legislature, the Senate and the House of Representatives concurring therein, that we recognize, honor, and commend Glenn Harris for his years of service to the Idaho Legislature, for his positive contributions to the Legislature, its employees, and the people of the State of Idaho, and wish him well in his retirement.

Messages from the Governor

March 22, 2023

The Honorable Scott Bedke
President of the Senate
Idaho State Senate

Dear Mr. President:

I have the honor to advise you that I have signed on March 21, 2023 and am transmitting to the Secretary of State the following Senate Bills, to wit:

S 1010, S 1021, S 1032, S 1033, S 1046,

The correspondence was ordered filed in the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

March 22, 2023

The Honorable Scott Bedke
President of the Senate
Idaho State Senate

Dear Mr. President:

I have the honor to advise you that I have signed on March 20, 2023 and am transmitting to the Secretary of State the following Senate Bill, to wit:

within the time prescribed by law, the same having arrived in the Office of the Governor at the hour of 8:15 a.m. on March 17, 2023.

Licensed outfitters and guides, many of which are small family operations, are a strong asset to Idaho's economy by providing people with the opportunity of experiencing a vast array of outdoor recreational opportunities. As you know, investing in outdoor recreation is one of the key components of my Idaho First plan. Senate Bill 1051 rightly protects Idahoans' freedom to contract and necessarily limits outfitters and guides' liability for those dangers inherent in outdoor adventures.

I believe the intention of Senate Bill 1051 is to allow any client, through written consent, to prospectively waive common law negligence claims against licensed outfitters and guides. Additionally, through discussion with the bill sponsor, the Idaho Outfitters and Guides Association, it's my understanding that Senate Bill 1051 is not intended to release licensed outfitters and guides of their duties set forth in Sections 6-1203 and 6-1204, Idaho Code, and the necessary safety rules and industry standards set forth by the Idaho Outfitters and Guides Licensing Board.

Sincerely,
/s/ Brad Little
Governor of Idaho

The correspondence was ordered filed in the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

The Senate advanced to the Ninth Order of Business.

Messages from the Governor

March 22, 2023

The Honorable Scott Bedke
President of the Senate
Idaho State Senate

Dear Mr. President:

I have the honor to advise you that I have signed on March 22, 2023 and am transmitting to the Secretary of State the following Senate Bills, to wit:

S 1042, as amended, and S 1043

within the time prescribed by law, Senate Bill 1042aa having arrived in the Office of the Governor at the hour of 8:58 a.m. on March 21, 2023, and Senate Bill 1043 having arrived in the Office of the Governor at 8:15 a.m. on March 17, 2023.

I am supporting these two pieces of legislation because investing in and helping our vibrant charter school community in Idaho is imperative to the success of students and families. Education has been my number one priority and we have taken numerous steps to improve our K-12 and postsecondary education system. There is no better investment we can make as a state than one in our children and future generations.

These two bills represent progress for the charter school community. Specifically, they help the charter schools that are both the financial and academic leaders in the industry, the ones that show outstanding results among their students. All charter schools in Idaho should strive for their level of success. However, we also must be aware that these bills expand the state's help to charter schools and gives them opportunities not available to traditional public schools. Even if we have only a "moral obligation" to the balance of any bonds under these new laws, our state credit rating is on the line for these schools and the buildings they are financing. I will be watching this program closely to ensure there are no unintended consequences to both our state budget and hard-earned AAA credit rating.

Sincerely,
/s/ Brad Little
Governor of Idaho

The correspondence was ordered filed in the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

March 23, 2023

The court, upon the petition of the board, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten (10) days from the date of the order, and then and there shall show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the board. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the board and regularly served, the court shall thereupon order that said witness appear before the board at the time and place fixed in said order and testify or produce the required papers. (5) Any person aggrieved by an action or inaction of the department shall be afforded an opportunity for a fair hearing upon request therefor in writing pursuant to chapter 52, title 67, Idaho Code, and the rules promulgated thereunder. In any hearing, a member of the board or a hearing officer designated by it shall have the power to administer oaths, examine witnesses, and issue in the name of the board subpoenas requiring the testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence relevant to any matter in the hearing.

(6) Any person adversely affected by a final determination of the board may secure judicial review by filing a petition for review as prescribed under the provisions of chapter 52, title 67, Idaho Code. The petition for review shall be served upon the chairman of the board, the director of the department, and upon the attorney general of the state of Idaho. Such service shall be jurisdictional and the provisions of this section shall be the exclusive procedure for appeal.

(7) The board, by the affirmative vote of four (4) of its members, may adopt, amend or repeal the rules, codes, and standards of the department that are necessary and feasible in order to carry out the purposes and provisions of this act and to enforce the laws of this state. The rules and orders so adopted and established shall have the force and effect of law and may deal with any matters deemed necessary and feasible for protecting the environment of the state.

(8) All rulemaking proceedings and hearings of the board shall be governed by the provisions of chapter 52, title 67, Idaho Code.

(9) The board shall adopt contested case rules consistent with the rules adopted by the attorney general under section 67-5206(4)(1), Idaho Code, the provisions of this act and other statutory authority of the department.

"SECTION 1. LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND LEGISLATIVE INTENT. It is the intent of the Legislature to meet the funding needs of schools and also to grant tax relief to the citizens of Idaho by reducing their property tax burdens. The Legislature finds that property taxes are being driven to a large extent by supplemental levies and bonds for schools and that enhanced funding for education at the state level can mitigate the need for reliance on local property taxpayers for school operations and facility costs.

SECTION 2. That Chapter 9, Title 33, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended by the addition thereto of a NEW SECTION, to be known and designated as Section 33-911, Idaho Code, and to read as follows:

33-911. SCHOOL DISTRICT FACILITIES FUND. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the school district facilities fund. The fund shall consist of moneys provided pursuant to sections 57-810 and 63-3638, Idaho Code, and any other legislative transfers or appropriations. Interest earned from the investment of moneys in the fund shall be returned to the fund.

(2) The moneys in the fund shall be distributed by the state controller to the state department of education by August 1 each year for the purpose of construction or renovation of school facilities. The moneys shall be distributed by the state department of education to each school district, as defined in section 33-1001(21), Idaho Code, on a per-pupil basis, using the average daily attendance calculation provided in section 33-1003A, Idaho Code, except that a student attending less than half-time through a virtual learning program shall not be counted toward that school district's average daily attendance calculation. The state department of education shall transfer the moneys by no later than August 31 each year to each school district. Such moneys shall be used in place of property tax levy moneys and shall be expended by a school district for one (1) or more of the purposes set forth in paragraphs (a) through (d) of this subsection. Moneys in the fund must be used by a school district in the following order of priority:

(a) Payment of existing school bonds authorized pursuant to chapter 11, title 33, Idaho Code;

(b) Payment of supplemental school levies authorized pursuant to section 33-802, Idaho Code, excluding indefinite term supplemental levies described in section 33-802(5), Idaho Code;

(c) Saved in a reserve account by the school district for future school facility construction or renovation needs; and

(d) For use in securing and making payments on a new school facilities bond.

(3) The amount of moneys received by a school district pursuant to this section must be deducted from a school levy that would otherwise have been paid by property taxpayers. Such moneys may not be duplicated by the collection of property tax, and no property taxes may be collected in order to make extra payments on expenses described in subsection (2) of this section in excess of required amounts.

(4) Each school district shall identify the amount received in the current year pursuant to this section in the certification of its budget in accordance with section 63-803, Idaho Code. Said amount must be subtracted from the amount to be levied. The amount of moneys thereby saved from being collected by a property tax levy shall be reported on each property tax notice pursuant to section 63-902, Idaho Code.

(5) Each school district shall report annually to the state department of education, in a manner prescribed by it, on the expenditure of moneys it has received pursuant to this section. The state department of education shall present the reports to the legislature each January.

SECTION 3. That Chapter 8, Title 57, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended by the addition thereto of a NEW SECTION, to be known and designated as Section 57-810, Idaho Code, and to read as follows:

57-810. CASH TRANSFERS FOR PROPERTY TAX RELIEF. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 57-814, Idaho Code, after the close of each fiscal year in 2023, 2024, and 2025, the state controller shall determine any excess cash balance in the general fund. When calculating any excess cash balance, the state controller shall first provide for the ending balance, as determined by the legislative record, to be carried over into the next fiscal year, plus an amount sufficient to cover encumbrances as approved by the division of financial management and an amount sufficient to cover any reappropriation as authorized by the legislature. On July 1, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, of each such year, there is hereby appropriated one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) or the balance of the general fund excess cash balance, whichever is less, to be transferred as follows:

(1) The state controller shall transfer the first fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) to the homeowner property tax relief account established pursuant to the provisions of section 63-724, Idaho Code; and

(2) The state tax commission shall transfer the remaining moneys to be used for the purpose of property tax relief in the following manner. Fifty percent (50%) of the remaining moneys shall be distributed to the school district facilities fund established pursuant to section 33-911, Idaho Code, and fifty percent (50%) shall be distributed to each county in the proportion that the amount of property taxes levied for the current tax year and approved pursuant to section 63-809, Idaho Code, on all taxable properties in the county bears to the total amount of property taxes levied for the current tax year and approved pursuant to section 63-809, Idaho Code, in all the counties. This amount shall be certified to the county auditor and tax collector by the state tax commission no later than the first Monday in November. Each county shall apply the moneys received as a credit on each property owner's property tax bill in proportion to the amount of property taxes on the property and shall distribute the moneys in the same manner as if they were property taxes.

SECTION 4. That Section 63-705, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

63-705. PUBLICATION OF CHANGES IN INCOME LIMITATIONS AND PROPERTY TAX OR OCCUPANCY TAX REDUCTION AMOUNTS. (1)(a) The state tax commission shall publish adjustments to the income limitations, which shall be the greater of:

(i) (a) An individual's income as defined in section 63-701, Idaho Code, of not more than ~~thirty-one thousand nine hundred dollars ($31,900)~~ thirty-seven thousand dollars ($37,000) per household for tax year ~~2021~~ 2023 and each tax year thereafter; or

(ii) (b) One hundred eighty-five percent (185%) of the federal poverty guidelines for a household of two (2) for tax year 2021 and each tax year thereafter.

(b) (2) On and after January 1, ~~2022~~ 2023, if the current year's assessed value of the home owned by the individual, according to the current year's assessment notice, exceeds the greater of ~~three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) or one hundred fifty percent (150%)~~ four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) or two hundred percent (200%) of the median assessed valuation for all homes in the county receiving the homestead exemption pursuant to section 63-602G, Idaho Code, then the individual will instead be referred to the property tax deferral program set forth in sections 63-712 through 63-721, Idaho Code. Using the current year's assessed values, each county shall report the median assessed value of all properties receiving the homestead exemption in such county as of that date to the state tax commission no later than the first Monday in June. Provided, however, the provisions of this paragraph do not apply to a veteran with either a service-connected disability of one hundred percent (100%) or a disability rating based on individual unemployability rating that is compensated at the one hundred percent (100%) disability rate, as certified by the United States department of veterans affairs.

(c) (3) The lowest income limitation shall allow a maximum reduction of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) in tax year 2021 and thereafter, or actual property taxes or occupancy taxes, as applicable, whichever is less. Each income limitation and reduction amount shall be prorated based on the basic maximum reduction, in practicable increments, so that the highest income limitation will provide for a reduction of two hundred fifty dollars ($250); or actual property taxes, whichever is less.

(2) (4) The state tax commission shall publish the adjustments required by this section each and every year the secretary of health and human services announces cost-of-living modifications, pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 415(i). The adjustments shall be published no later than October 1 of each such year and shall be effective for claims filed in and for the following property tax year.

(3) (5) The publication of adjustments under this section shall be exempt from the provisions of chapter 52, title 67, Idaho Code, but shall be provided to each county and to members of the public upon request and without charge.

SECTION 5. That Chapter 7, Title 63, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended by the addition thereto of a NEW SECTION, to be known and designated as Section 63-724, Idaho Code, and to read as follows:

63-724. HOMEOWNER PROPERTY TAX RELIEF. (1) It is the intent of the legislature to provide property tax relief on owner-occupied properties in Idaho receiving the homestead property tax exemption pursuant to section 63-602G, Idaho Code, as of the second Monday in July each year by providing state moneys as replacement funding as provided in this section. This section does not apply to occupancy taxes levied pursuant to section 63-317, Idaho Code.

(2) For the purpose of this section:

(a) "Eligible property taxes" means all property tax levies on homes receiving the homestead property tax exemption pursuant to section 63-602G, Idaho Code, as of the second Monday in July each year, except for bonds, school district levies, plant facility levies, and any voter-approved temporary levy for a specific duration. When calculating the eligible property taxes for the purpose of this section, the taxable value of each property shall include the value of no more than one (1) acre.

(b) "Homeowner property tax relief homestead" means a property receiving the homestead property tax exemption pursuant to section 63-602G, Idaho Code, as of the second Monday in July each year.

(3) There is hereby created in the state treasury the homeowner property tax relief account. Moneys in this account shall consist of moneys transferred from the general fund and are continuously appropriated for homeowner property tax relief pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(4) The county assessor shall prepare a homeowner property tax relief roll, which shall be in addition to all other property rolls. By no later than the fourth Monday of August each year, the homeowner property tax relief roll shall be certified by the county assessor to the county auditor and to the state tax commission in the manner prescribed by rules promulgated by the state tax commission. The homeowner property tax relief roll shall show:

(a) The name of the taxpayer;

(b) An accurate description of the homeowner property tax relief homestead; and

(c) The property's current market value for assessment purposes.

(5)(a) The county auditor shall complete the homeowner property tax relief roll by adding the following information:

(i) The current year's levy for the tax code area in which the property is situated;

(ii) The amount of eligible property taxes levied on each qualifying homestead; and

(iii) The total amount of eligible property taxes levied on all properties within the county that are receiving the homestead property tax exemption as of the second Monday in July of each year.

(b) By no later than the fourth Monday of October each year, the county auditor shall certify the completed homeowner property tax relief roll to the state tax commission in the manner prescribed by rules promulgated by the state tax commission.

(6) The state tax commission shall determine the total number of homeowner property tax relief homesteads to be allowed in each county, the dollar amount of eligible property taxes for each homeowner property tax relief homestead allowed, and the total dollar amount of eligible property taxes for all homeowner property tax relief homesteads within each county. The state tax commission shall divide the moneys in the homeowner property tax relief account as of August 1 each year by the total dollar amount of eligible property taxes levied on all such property tax relief homesteads in all counties, then multiply the result by the total amount of eligible property taxes levied on such homesteads in each county. This amount shall be certified to the county auditor and tax collector by the state tax commission no later than the first Monday in November. By no later than December 20 of each year, the state tax commission shall pay to the county tax collector of each county the first half of the amount due to each county as reimbursement for homeowner property tax relief as provided in this section and shall pay the second half of such amount by no later than June 20 of the following year.

(7) The state tax commission may audit each and every property on the homeowner property tax relief roll. If the state tax commission determines that a homeowner property tax relief homestead credit is erroneous, the state tax commission shall disapprove as much of the credit as necessary in order to conform with statutory standards. The state tax commission shall provide the homeowner written notice of the state tax commission's intent to disapprove all or a portion of the credit. The homeowner shall have twenty-eight (28) days to make written protest to the state tax commission of the intended action. The homeowner may submit additional information and may request an informal hearing with the state tax commission. If the homeowner fails to make written protest within twenty-eight (28) days, the state tax commission shall provide written notice of disapproval to both the homeowner and the county auditor of the county in which the property is situated by December 20. Any homeowner whose claim is disapproved in whole or in part by the state tax commission may appeal such disapproval to the board of tax appeals or to the district court of the county of residence of the taxpayer within thirty (30) days.

(8) Each county treasurer shall apply the moneys received pursuant to subsection (6) of this section to the eligible property taxes levied on the properties listed on the certified homeowner property tax relief roll that year. The moneys shall be designated as a line item credit against the total of all eligible property taxes on the property tax bill for each property receiving the tax relief provided by this section. Such moneys shall be distributed in the same manner as property tax revenues.

(9) The amount of property tax relief for a homeowner's property taxes shall be applied after the homestead exemption pursuant to section 63-602G, Idaho Code, has been applied. The property tax relief amount cannot exceed the actual amount of current eligible property taxes due on the homeowner's property tax notice. No delinquent property taxes, penalties, interest, or fines may be paid with moneys from this program.

(10) Nothing in this section shall prevent a homeowner from applying for or receiving any other property tax relief provided pursuant to this chapter. The property tax relief provided pursuant to this section shall be credited to the homeowner's property tax bill before any other property tax relief is applied, up to a maximum of the actual property taxes due on the homeowner property tax relief homestead.

(11) Any amount of homeowner property tax relief moneys distributed by the state tax commission to a county that exceeds the total amount of all eligible property taxes due from all homeowner property tax relief homesteads in the county shall revert to the state general fund. The county treasurer shall deposit such moneys with the state treasurer by the fourth Monday in July each year for the preceding property tax year.

(12) Within three (3) years of payment, the state tax commission may recover any erroneous or incorrect payment made to any homeowner receiving relief under this section. The deficiency determination, collection, and enforcement procedures provided in chapter 30, title 63, Idaho Code, shall apply and be available to the state tax commission for enforcement and collection under this section. Wherever liens or any other proceedings are defined as income tax liens or proceedings, they shall, when applied in enforcement or collection under this section, be described as tax relief liens and proceedings. In connection with this section, a deficiency shall consist of any amount erroneously paid on behalf of a homeowner under this section.

(6) An amount required by the provisions of chapter 53, title 33, Idaho Code.

(8) For fiscal year 2011 and each fiscal year thereafter, four million one hundred thousand dollars ($4,100,000), of which two million two hundred thousand dollars ($2,200,000) shall be distributed to each of the forty-four (44) counties in equal amounts and one million nine hundred thousand dollars ($1,900,000) shall be distributed to the forty-four (44) counties in the proportion that the population of the county bears to the population of the state. For fiscal year 2012 and for each fiscal year thereafter, the amount distributed pursuant to this subsection shall be adjusted annually by the state tax commission in accordance with the consumer price index for all urban consumers (CPI-U) as published by the U.S. department of labor, bureau of labor statistics, but in no fiscal year shall the total amount allocated for counties under this subsection be less than four million one hundred thousand dollars ($4,100,000). Any increase resulting from the adjustment required in this section shall be distributed to each county in the proportion that the population of the county bears to the population of the state. Each county shall establish a special election fund to which shall be deposited all revenues received from the distribution pursuant to this subsection. All such revenues shall be used exclusively to defray the costs associated with conducting elections as required of county clerks by the provisions of section 34-1401, Idaho Code.

(9) One dollar ($1.00) on each application for certificate of title or initial application for registration of a motor vehicle, snowmobile, all-terrain vehicle or other vehicle processed by the county assessor or the Idaho transportation department, excepting those applications in which any sales or use taxes due have been previously collected by a retailer, shall be a fee for the services of the assessor of the county or the Idaho transportation department in collecting such taxes and shall be paid into the current expense fund of the county or state highway account established in section 40-702, Idaho Code.

(10) Eleven and five-tenths percent (11.5%) is continuously appropriated and shall be distributed to the revenue-sharing account, which is hereby created in the state treasury, and the moneys in the revenue-sharing account will be paid in installments each calendar quarter by the state tax commission as follows:

(a) Forty-five and two-tenths percent (45.2%) shall be paid to the various cities as follows:

(i) Beginning in fiscal year 2025 and each fiscal year thereafter, four million dollars ($4,000,000) shall be transferred each quarter to the state public defense fund created in section 57-827, Idaho Code.

(ii) After the distribution required by subparagraph (i) of this paragraph, the revenue-sharing amount calculated by the state tax commission for the various cities for each quarter of fiscal year 2020 shall be the base amount for current quarterly revenue distribution amounts. The state tax commission shall calculate the per capita distribution for each city resulting from the previous fiscal year's distributions.

(iii) If there is no change in the amount of the revenue-sharing account from the same quarter of the previous fiscal year, then the various cities shall receive the same amount received for the same quarter of the previous fiscal year.

(iv) If the balance of the revenue-sharing account for the current quarter is greater than the balance of the revenue-sharing account for the same quarter of the previous fiscal year, then:

1. If the distributions made to the cities during the same quarter of the previous fiscal year were below the base amount established in fiscal year 2020, then the various cities shall first receive a proportional increase up to the base amount for each city and up to a one percent (1%) increase over such base amount. Any remaining moneys shall be distributed to cities with a below-average per capita distribution in the proportion that the population of that city bears to the population of all cities with below-average per capita distributions within the state.

2. If the distributions made to the cities during the same quarter of the previous fiscal year were at or above the base amount established in fiscal year 2020, then the cities shall receive the same distribution they received during the same quarter of the previous fiscal year plus a proportional increase up to one percent (1%). Any remaining moneys shall be distributed to the cities with a below-average per capita distribution in the proportion that the population of that city bears to the population of all cities with a below-average per capita distribution within the state.

(v) If the balance of the revenue-sharing account for the current quarter is less than the balance of the revenue-sharing account for the same quarter of the previous fiscal year, then the cities shall first receive a proportional reduction down to the base amount established in fiscal year 2020. If further reductions are necessary, the cities shall receive reductions based on the proportion that each city's population bears to the population of all cities within the state.

(b) Forty-seven and one-tenth percent (47.1%) shall be paid to the various counties as follows:

(i) Beginning in fiscal year 2025, five million dollars ($5,000,000) shall be transferred each quarter to the state public defense fund created in section 57-827, Idaho Code. The growth percentage distributed pursuant to this subparagraph shall be recalculated each quarter beginning in fiscal year 2026 and in each fiscal year thereafter through fiscal year 2030. If the growth is positive and is calculated over the same period from the previous fiscal year, a proportional increase in the initial transfer amount of up to five percent (5%) annually shall be transferred to the state public defense fund. After fiscal year 2030, an amount equal to one-fourth (1/4) of the total amount transferred to the state public defense fund in fiscal year 2030 pursuant to this subparagraph shall be transferred quarterly to the state public defense fund;

(ii) Following the distribution required by subparagraph (i) of this paragraph, fifty-nine and eight-tenths percent (59.8%) of the amount to be distributed under this paragraph (b) of this subsection shall be distributed as follows:

1. One million three hundred twenty thousand dollars ($1,320,000) annually shall be distributed one forty-fourth (1/44) to each of the various counties; and

2. The balance of such amount shall be paid to the various counties, and each county shall be entitled to an amount in the proportion that the population of that county bears to the population of the state; and

(iii) Following the distribution required by subparagraph (i) of this paragraph, forty and two-tenths percent (40.2%) of the amount to be distributed under this paragraph (b) of this subsection shall be distributed as follows:

1. Each county that received a payment under the provisions of section 63-3638(e), Idaho Code, as that subsection existed immediately prior to July 1, 2000, during the fourth quarter of calendar year 1999, shall be entitled to a like amount during succeeding calendar quarters.

2. If the dollar amount of money available under this subsection (10)(b)(iii) in any quarter does not equal the amount paid in the fourth quarter of calendar year 1999, each county's payment shall be reduced proportionately.

3. If the dollar amount of money available under this subsection (10)(b)(iii) in any quarter exceeds the amount paid in the fourth quarter of calendar year 1999, each county shall be entitled to a proportionately increased payment, but such increase shall not exceed one hundred five percent (105%) of the total payment made in the fourth quarter of calendar year 1999.

4. If the dollar amount of money available under this subsection (10)(b)(iii) in any quarter exceeds one hundred five percent (105%) of the total payment made in the fourth quarter of calendar year 1999, any amount over and above such one hundred five percent (105%) shall be paid to the various counties in the proportion that the population of the county bears to the population of the state; and

(c) Seven and seven-tenths percent (7.7%) of the amount appropriated in this subsection shall be paid to the several counties for distribution to special purpose taxing districts as follows:

(i) Each such district that received a payment under the provisions of section 63-3638(e), Idaho Code, as such subsection existed immediately prior to July 1, 2000, during the fourth quarter of calendar year 1999, shall be entitled to a like amount during succeeding calendar quarters.

(ii) If the dollar amount of money available under this subsection (10)(c) in any quarter does not equal the amount paid in the fourth quarter of calendar year 1999, each special purpose taxing district's payment shall be reduced proportionately.

(iii) If the dollar amount of money available under this subsection (10)(c) in any quarter exceeds the amount distributed under paragraph (c)(i) of this subsection, each special purpose taxing district shall be entitled to a share of the excess based on the proportion each such district's current property tax budget bears to the sum of the current property tax budgets of all such districts in the state. The state tax commission shall calculate district current property tax budgets to include any unrecovered forgone amounts as determined under section 63-802(1)(e), Idaho Code. When a special purpose taxing district is situated in more than one (1) county, the state tax commission shall determine the portion attributable to the special purpose taxing district from each county in which it is situated.

(iv) If special purpose taxing districts are consolidated, the resulting district is entitled to a base amount equal to the sum of the base amounts received in the last calendar quarter by each district prior to the consolidation.

(v) If a special purpose taxing district is dissolved or disincorporated, the state tax commission shall continuously distribute to the board of county commissioners an amount equal to the last quarter's distribution prior to dissolution or disincorporation. The board of county commissioners shall determine any redistribution of moneys so received.

(vi) Taxing districts formed after January 1, 2001, are not entitled to a payment under the provisions of this paragraph (c) of this subsection.

(vii) For purposes of this paragraph (c) of this subsection, a special purpose taxing district is any taxing district that is not a city, a county, or a school district.

(11) Amounts calculated in accordance with section 2, chapter 356, laws of 2001, for annual distribution to counties and other taxing districts beginning in October 2001 for replacement of property tax on farm machinery and equipment exempted pursuant to section 63-602EE, Idaho Code. For nonschool districts, the state tax commission shall distribute one-fourth (1/4) of this amount certified quarterly to each county. For school districts, the state tax commission shall distribute one-fourth (1/4) of the amount certified quarterly to each school district. For nonschool districts, the county auditor shall distribute such amounts to each district within thirty (30) calendar days from receipt of moneys from the state tax commission. Moneys received by each taxing district for replacement shall be utilized in the same manner and in the same proportions as revenues from property taxation. The moneys remitted to the county treasurer for replacement of property exempt from taxation pursuant to section 63-602EE, Idaho Code, may be considered by the counties and other taxing districts and budgeted at the same time, in the same manner and in the same year as revenues from taxation on personal property which these moneys replace. If taxing districts are consolidated, the resulting district is entitled to an amount equal to the sum of the amounts received in the last calendar quarter by each district pursuant to this subsection prior to the consolidation. If a taxing district is dissolved or disincorporated, the state tax commission shall continuously distribute to the board of county commissioners an amount equal to the last quarter's distribution prior to dissolution or disincorporation. The board of county commissioners shall determine any redistribution of moneys so received. If a taxing district annexes territory, the distribution of moneys received pursuant to this subsection shall be unaffected. Taxing districts formed after January 1, 2001, are not entitled to a payment under the provisions of this subsection. School districts shall receive an amount determined by multiplying the sum of the year 2000 school district levy minus .004 times the market value on December 31, 2000, in the district of the property exempt from taxation pursuant to section 63-602EE, Idaho Code, provided that the result of these calculations shall not be less than zero (0). The result of these school district calculations shall be further increased by six percent (6%). For purposes of the limitation provided by section 63-802, Idaho Code, moneys received pursuant to this section as property tax replacement for property exempt from taxation pursuant to section 63-602EE, Idaho Code, shall be treated as property tax revenues.

(12) Amounts necessary to pay refunds as provided in section 63-3641, Idaho Code, to a developer of a retail complex shall be remitted to the demonstration pilot project fund created in section 63-3641, Idaho Code.

(13) Amounts calculated in accordance with section 63-602KK(4), Idaho Code, for annual distribution to counties and other taxing districts for replacement of property tax on personal property tax exemptions pursuant to section 63-602KK(2), Idaho Code, which amounts are continuously appropriated unless the legislature enacts a different appropriation for a particular fiscal year. For purposes of the limitation provided by section 63-802, Idaho Code, moneys received pursuant to this section as property tax replacement for property exempt from taxation pursuant to section 63-602KK, Idaho Code, shall be treated as property tax revenues. If taxing districts are consolidated, the resulting district is entitled to an amount equal to the sum of the amounts that were received in the last calendar year by each district pursuant to this subsection prior to the consolidation. If a taxing district or revenue allocation area annexes territory, the distribution of moneys received pursuant to this subsection shall be unaffected. Taxing districts and revenue allocation areas formed after January 1, 2022, are not entitled to a payment under the provisions of this subsection.

(14) For fiscal years 2023 and 2024 only, a sum of thirty-four million dollars ($34,000,000) shall be distributed each year by the state tax commission to the forty-four (44) counties in the proportion that the expenditures of each county for indigent defense services during county fiscal year 2021, excluding any state funding or grants, bear to the expenditures of all counties in the state for indigent defense services during county fiscal year 2021, excluding any state funding or grants. No later than July 1, 2022, the state public defense commission shall certify to the state tax commission each county's proportionate share of all counties' indigent defense expenses in county fiscal year 2021, excluding any state funding or grants.

(15) Any moneys remaining over and above those necessary to meet and reserve for payments under other subsections of this section shall be distributed to the general fund.

(16)(a) Four and five-tenths percent (4.5%), but not less than eighty million dollars ($80,000,000), is continuously appropriated and shall be distributed to the transportation expansion and congestion mitigation fund established in section 40-720, Idaho Code.

(b) Any portion of the four and five-tenths percent (4.5%) provided for in paragraph (a) of this subsection that exceeds eighty million dollars ($80,000,000) is continuously appropriated and shall be apportioned to local units of government for local highway projects in the same percentages provided for in section 40-709(1) through (3), Idaho Code. Local units of government may pool funds allocated to them pursuant to this paragraph for local highway projects.

(c) The distribution provided for in this subsection must immediately follow the distribution provided for in subsection (10) of this section.

Messages from the House

THE OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

March 27, 2023

The Honorable Mike Moyle
Speaker of the House
Idaho House of Representatives
Hand Delivery

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I have the honor to advise you that I am returning herewith, without my approval, disapproved and vetoed:

H 292

within the time limited by law, the same having arrived in the Office of the Governor at the hour of 12:53 p.m. on March 27, 2023.

No other state has accomplished more tax relief per capita than Idaho in the past four years. Together, we have delivered $2.7 billion in relief to Idahoans by reducing and flattening the income tax, raising the grocery tax credit, providing rebates, providing some property tax relief, and lowering payroll taxes for Idaho businesses:

2020: $325 million in tax relief

2021: $383 million in tax relief

2022: $1.331 billion in tax relief

2023: $682.8 million in tax relief

Idaho stands apart from every other state because we focus on making taxes fair, simple, predictable, and competitive.

House Bill 292 is not a simple bill.

House Bill 292 is a hodgepodge of policy items intermingled with property tax relief. House Bill 292 presents significant impacts on election dates, public defense funding, online sales tax collections, local government sales tax distributions, and funding for transportation, and it jeopardizes bonding for critical infrastructure projects.

By re-ordering the priority of statutory claims on sales taxes prior to the payment of TECM bonds and by removing minimum guarantees for TECM debt service, this bill forces a pause of the TECM bonds that were scheduled for sale this week due to consternation in the bond market. A full list of transportation projects impacted by House Bill 292 is attached.

In short, House Bill 292 has functionally halted major transportation projects across the State of Idaho. These transportation projects were advanced without raising taxes or fees. These transportation projects help keep up with record growth, keep Idahoans safe, and promote commerce.

In addition, House Bill 292 removes the very election most used by school districts that rely on supplemental levies to keep up with record growth and maintain schools for Idaho families, thereby removing local control. Inclusion of this provision will have a major adverse impact on our ability to serve Idaho families with quality public schools because the sales tax earmarked for public schools did not include an inflator like there is for property tax relief in this bill. I do not find it reasonable to permanently eliminate an election date that has become important to so many families and local schools.

Let's get property tax relief done right this session. The simplest solutions are usually the best solutions, and I believe we can extract the property tax portions of House Bill 292 and deliver a true property tax relief bill this session. A property tax relief bill this session needs to be simple and carried out in a way that does not harm public schools, does not hold up needed transportation projects, and does not reveal more unintended consequences.

The people of Idaho deserve simple property tax relief that will endure over time!

/s/ Brad Little
Governor

Dear Mr. President:

S 1182

within the time prescribed by law, the same having arrived in the Office of the Governor at the hour of 4:25 p.m. on March 29, 2023.

Although signing this bill, I disagree with the Transfer of Appropriations language in this appropriation bill - and all of the FY 2024 appropriations bills for the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare (IDHW) - that restricts the transfer of personnel costs to other expense classes. This transmittal letter applies to all IDHW appropriations bills this session that include that language.

The state struggles to recruit and retain an adequate workforce, particularly IDHW positions such as social workers and medical professionals. Consequently, the IDHW relies on transfers at times from personnel costs to operating expenditures to hire contract physicians or nurses to adequately staff state-operated medical facilities that house some of Idaho's most vulnerable citizens who, without proper care, are a danger to themselves or others. To fulfill its core mission, the IDHW must transfer appropriations between expense classes when both minor and routine disruptions, such as these employment vacancies, occur. Accordingly, the inclusion of this restrictive language ties the hands of the IDHW to act effectively and efficiently when necessary. It is short-sighted and impedes the agency from responsibly managing its operations.

I look forward to working with you next session to understand the issue this is intended to resolve and find a more tenable long-term solution.

Sincerely,
/s/ Brad Little
Governor of Idaho

Messages from the Governor

April 5, 2023

The Honorable Scott Bedke
President of the Senate
Idaho State Senate

Dear Mr. President:

I have the honor to advise you that I have signed on April 5, 2023 and am transmitting to the Secretary of State the following Senate Bill, to wit:

within the time prescribed by law, the same having arrived in the Office of the Governor at the hour of 1:50 p.m. on March 30, 2023.

Maintaining the public's trust in government is imperative. To do so, government must follow the law, act with transparency, and allow our legal processes to run to completion. Upon internal disagreement or allegations of impropriety, we must not prejudge or impose corrective action without a full and final picture.

Section 1 of this bill forces a reduction of $14,394,000 from the Department of Health and Welfare, purportedly to recoup funds meant to benefit children that some in the Legislature have already judged were "ineligible payments made by the Department of Health and Welfare to ineligible community partner providers."

The order and meaning of words in appropriation language matter, not one's subjective intent. Therefore, it is critical that language meant to place restrictions on appropriations are clear and unambiguous. When mistakes are made, we fix them. However, here, the legislative audit process has only just begun, and Idaho's courts have not concluded there was misfeasance. Further, the Legislative Council may exercise its statutory authority to order an audit and request an investigation if it so chooses.

My signature on this bill shall not be construed as an agreement or a finding that there was any wrongdoing or that ineligible payments were made to ineligible partner providers. I will wait until the process is completed and then support necessary action to correct any mistakes. Until then, people expect we not cast aspersions on others or rush to a conclusion. Our credibility depends on it.

Sincerely,
/s/ Brad Little
Governor of Idaho

The correspondence was ordered filed in the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

SECTION IV

TOPICAL INDEX
[ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED]

This Topical Index alphabetically lists subject matter for ALL Senate bills, and ONLY those House bills introduced in the Senate. Nonlegislative subject matter is included and referred to by page number only.

Since the Senate Journal only covers the actions of House bills transmitted to the Senate, this topical index does not refer to every House bill introduced in the House. Separate indices in this volume list, in numerical order, all House bills, memorials, resolutions, and proclamations received by the Senate and show action taken by the Senate thereon. If a particular subject matter does not appear in this index, refer to the House Journal Alphabetical Index. Session law numbers for legislation passing both Senate and House, and becoming law, are included for all Senate bills within the Numerical Index Section V.
