Delamar Project

Integra's focus is developing the historic Delamar and Florida Mountain mines.

Located roughly 100 miles from Idaho's Capital City, the Delamar and Florida Mountain deposits sit between historic Silver City, Idaho and the ranching town of Jordan Valley, Oregon.

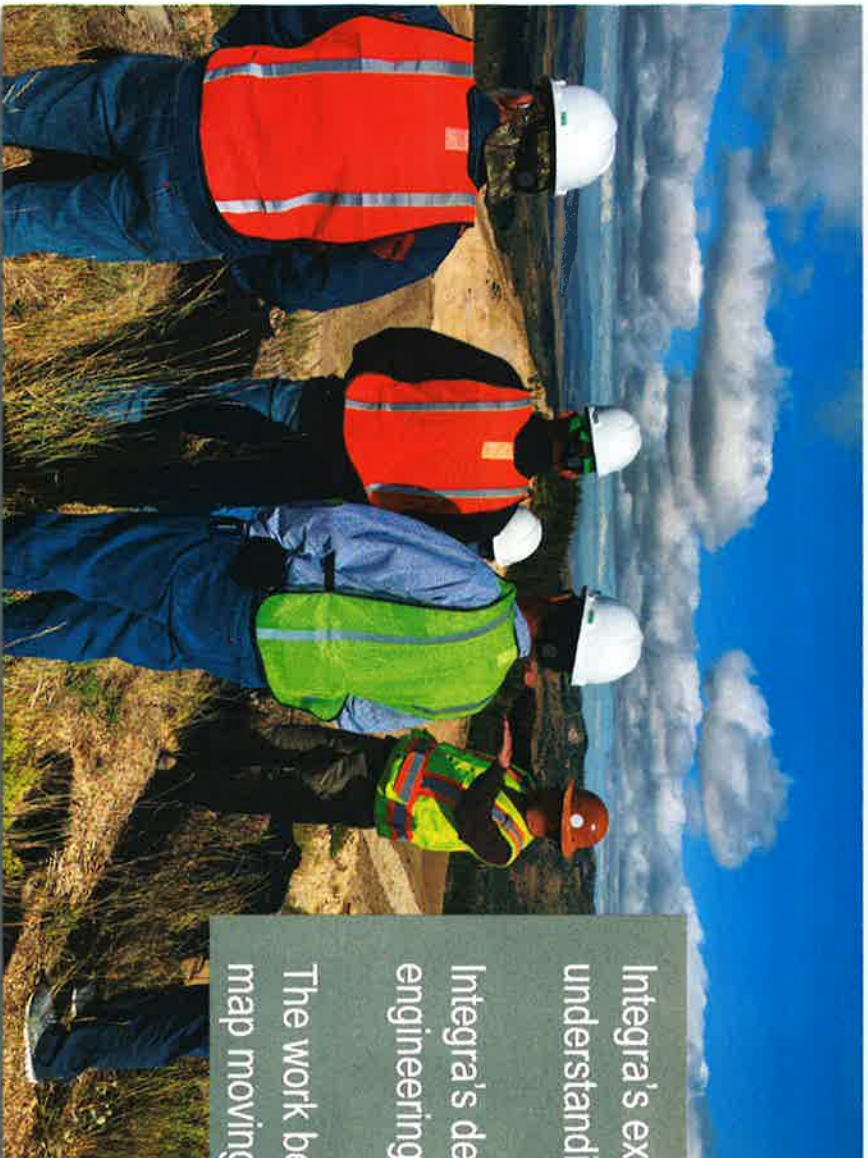

Our History

- 1888: Historic Delamar and Florida Mountain Mines were established.
- 1891: Owner, Joseph Delamar served as a state senator in Idaho's first ever legislature.
- 1998: Closed due to low precious metal prices, but now lives again.

Over the course of its 110 years of operation, the Delamar Mine produced 1.6 million ounces of gold and 100 million ounces of silver.

Today

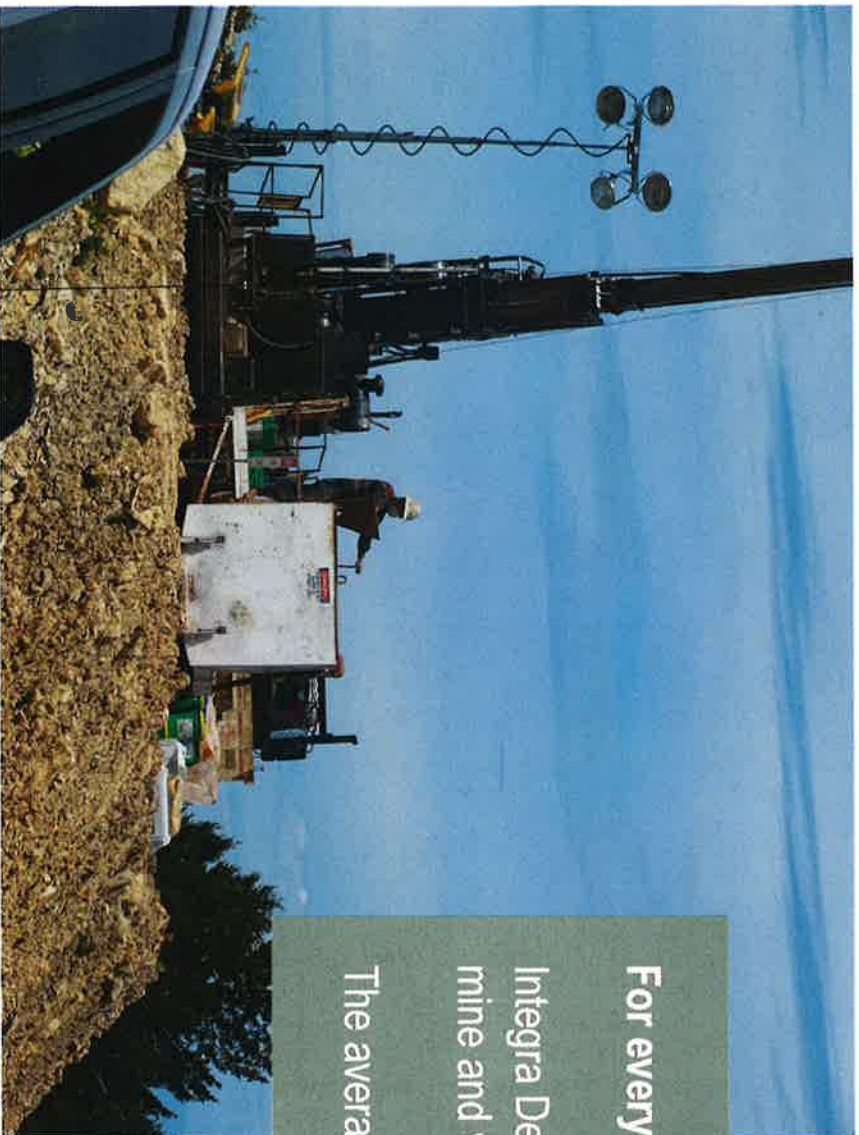

Integra's exploration team is busy drilling to enhance our understanding of the deposits available.

Integra's development team conducts environmental, engineering and economic studies .

The work being completed by both teams will outline the road map moving forward.

Jobs

For every 1 mining job there will be 2 support jobs.
Integra Delamar plans to hire more than 300 people at the mine and will contract more than 650 support staff.
The average wage will be upwards of $85,000 annually.

Economy

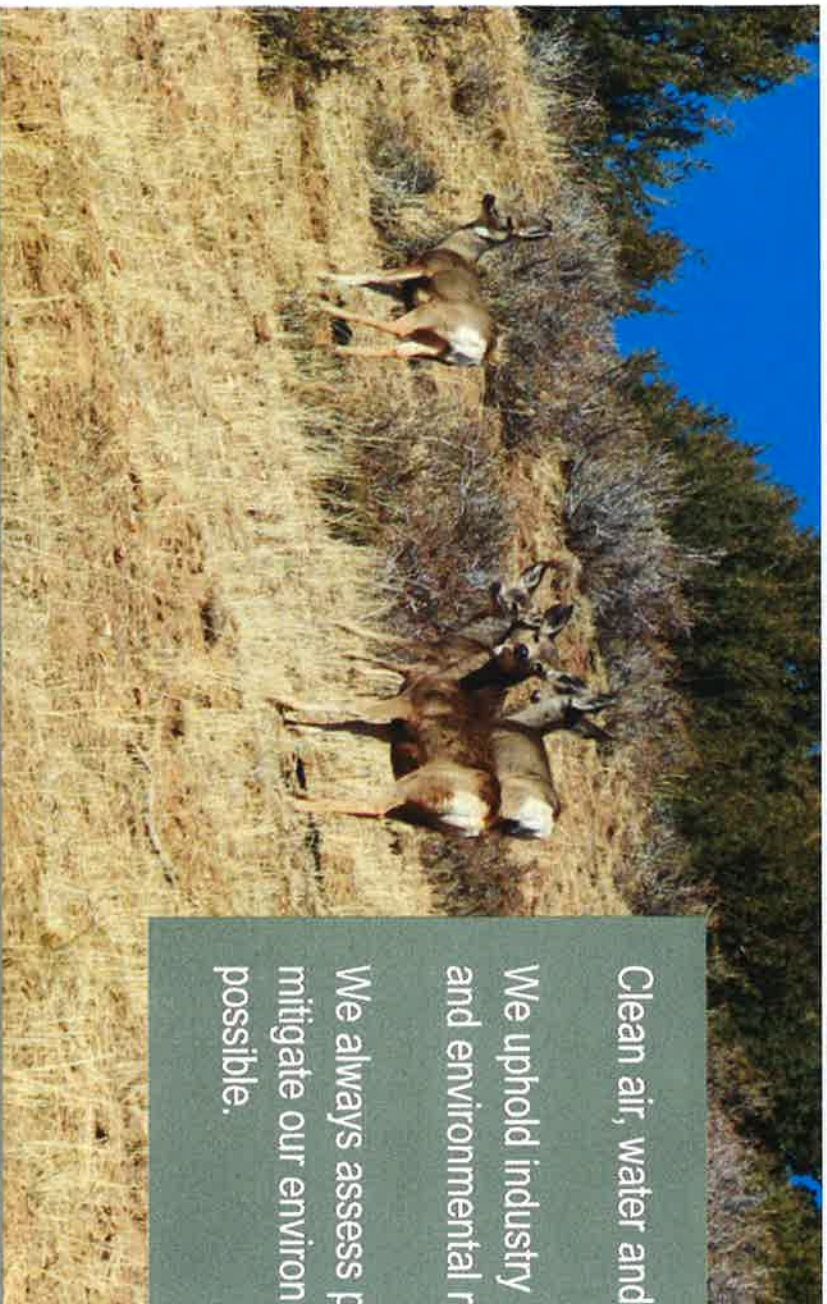

The current plan is to produce over 1.2 million ounces of gold and 16 million ounces of silver.

Robust economics.

Millions of dollars in taxes over the life of the mine.

Environment

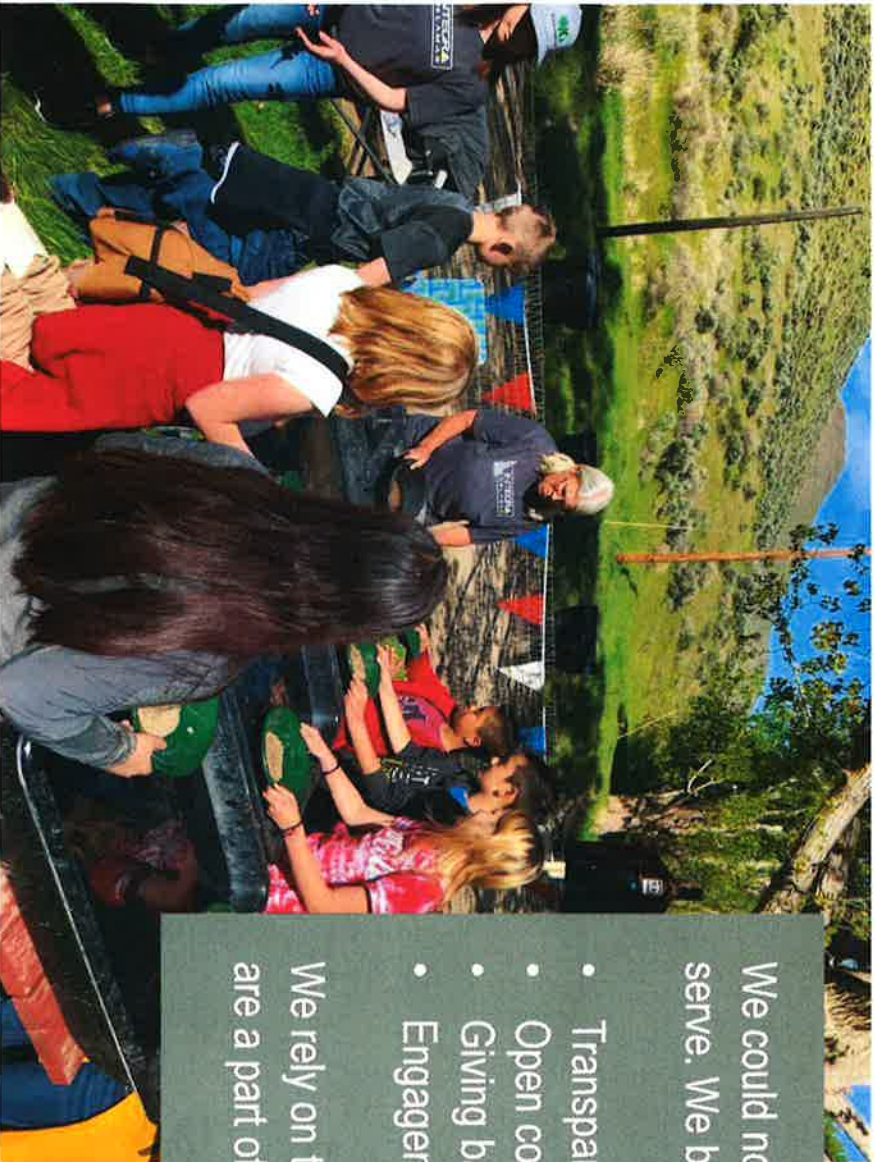

Clean air, water and soil are important to all of us.

We uphold industry best practices and strictly adhere to safety and environmental regulations.

We always assess potential impacts and identify ways to mitigate our environmental footprint to ensure it is as small as possible.

Community

We could not be who we are today without the communities we serve. We believe in:

- Transparency
- Open communication
- Giving back
- Engagement

We rely on the hardworking people in the communities that we are a part of, and they know they can rely on us.
