

REVISED

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

RS28982C1 / S1217

This legislation repeals and replaces I.C. 46-601 delegating authority to the governor to act in a state of extreme emergency, clarifying and limiting the powers of the governor during episodes of extreme emergency without concurrence by the legislature, protecting Idaho workers as essential, reaffirming the legislature's authority to end emergency declarations and/or emergency orders, protects the suspension of the right to peaceable assembly and free exercise of religion, protects Idahoans' right to bear arms during emergencies and prohibits a governor from unilaterally altering or suspending Idaho Code.

FISCAL NOTE

Passage of this legislation will not incur new costs to the general funds of the State of Idaho. Changes to the Idaho Code sections presented in the legislation do not create additional use of state revenues.
