

REVISED

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

RS29425C1 / H0579

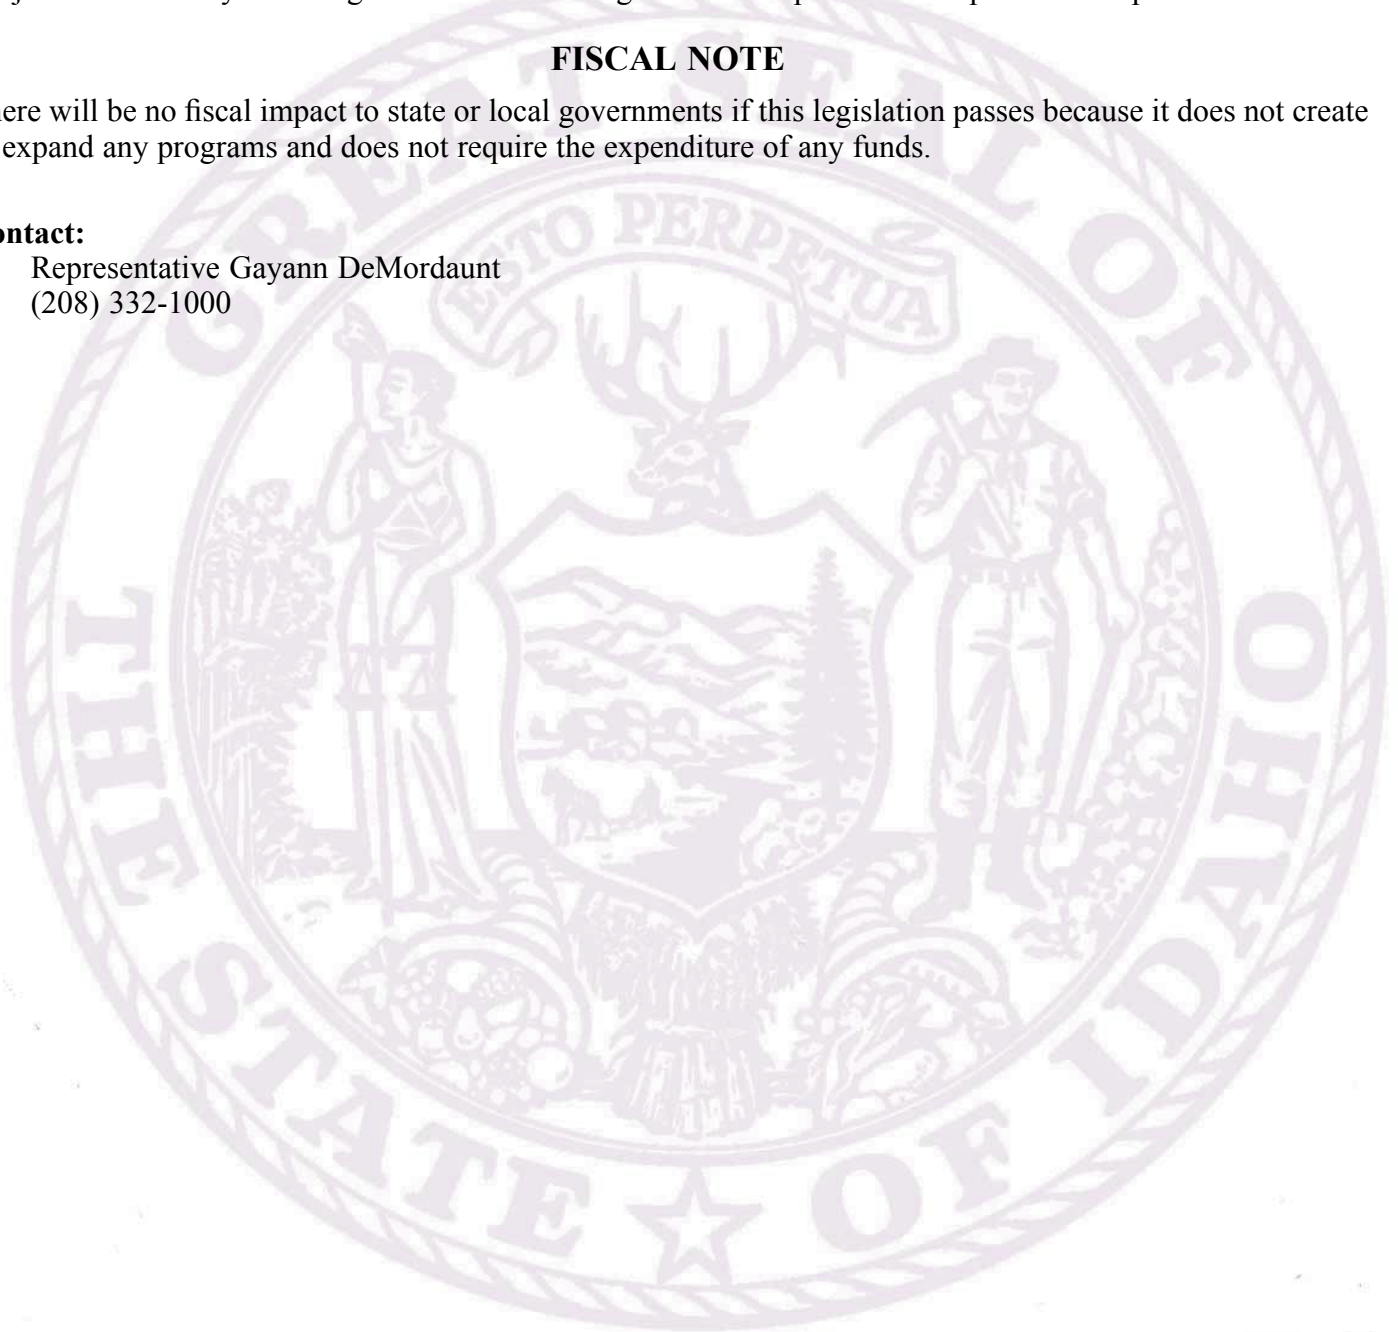

This legislation protects an employee's medical privacy. An employee does not have to disclose medical information to an employer unless the requested information is identified at or around the time of hire and said information is necessary to determine if the prospective employee can perform the essential functions of the job to which they are being considered. This legislation also provides for specific exemptions.

FISCAL NOTE

There will be no fiscal impact to state or local governments if this legislation passes because it does not create or expand any programs and does not require the expenditure of any funds.
